PRESIDENT IS LOSING HOLD IN OWN STATE

Hard To Find Reason Though For Melting Of 400,000 Majority

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by East Pub. Co.
Cleveland, Ohio.—President Harding has lost ground in his home state. Nobody can upon analysis put his finger on the exact reason. It was inevitable that an unprecedented majority of 400,000 should melt away but there are few Democrats or political sagacity who will say it has vanished altogether. This is normally a city of Democratic tendency. To win this county often means a state victory, yet with all criticism of the Harding administration that one hears, there is no corresponding enthusiasm for the Democratic party. The Republicans may be in disfavor but they haven't grown bad enough in public esteem to send the tide in the other political direction as yet.

POMERENE FIGHT

The best indication of what is going on in northern Ohio is the comment on Senator Pomerene's fight for reelection. He is personally popular. Republicans by the scores sing his praises in spite of the fact that he is a Democrat. Lots of Republicans consider him a strong man because he has refused to coddle to labor unions and has pursued a courageous course in congress. On the surface it would seem that such a man would have a certain victory. Yet his own friends admit he has "hard fight ahead" and they are frankly doubtful. Labor is fighting him and as for Republican business men, they are influential but not so numerous at the polls. Many of them admire a Democrat of courage but they don't always let their admiration pull them away from party strings.

Paradoxical as it may seem the gubernatorial fight here will be a better index of the state of mind in Ohio on the Harding administration than will be the congressional contests.

FRIEND OF HARDING

Carmi Thompson, Republican candidate for governor, is an intimate friend of President Harding. The incumbent at Columbus is a Republican but he wasn't renominated. Strictly on the state record, Mr. Thompson will not have much of an opportunity on the stump. Vic Donahay, the Democratic candidate, is popular. He ran way ahead of his ticket in 1920. The friends of Thompson will wage a stand-by-the-president campaign. Four hundred thousand is a big majority for any Democrat to overcome. Donahay will cut it down extensively. It's too early to say who will win but as Donahay takes large slices out of the Republican lead of two years ago, he will pull with him many Democratic congressmen. The Republicans have all the members of congress from Ohio now. They may lose half of them.

Benjamin Karr, statistical wizard of the Cleveland News, a republican newspaper, took the Maine election figures and calculated the ratio of gain and loss if applied nationally and comes to the conclusion that the democrats would under those circumstances elect 11 out of 22 representatives. Carrying it throughout the

Nine Persons Want Polly

It was only a few days ago that someone offered a parrot for sale through a Want Ad in the Post-Crescent. Now you would hardly imagine that there were many people in Appleton that wanted a parrot, or if you wanted to sell one where would you look for a buyer. The party who offered this particular parrot told a Post-Crescent representative that the Want Ad resulted in nine inquiries from persons who were interested in buying a parrot. And the parrot was sold. No matter what you want to sell the quickest and most economical means of selling is through the use of a Want Ad in the Post-Crescent.

U.S. ACTS TO HALT RAISES IN COAL PRICES

Too Many Resales Between Mine And Consumer Charges Commission

Washington — Preliminary steps were taken by the Interstate Commerce Commission to restrict sale and resale of coal by individuals on the line of distribution between the mines and the consumer.

Back and forth selling has been held responsible for pyramiding of coal prices and the practice is said by officials to be susceptible of limitation through regulations preventing carloads of coal being reconsigned from one shipper to another after each sale.

Government officials interpreted the prospective embargo by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on coal shipment to the Wisconsin fuel committee. The appointment to Wisconsin, to be decided on in a conference at Washington this week will probably be one million tons, Mr. Pressentin says.

STATE TO GET COAL

Madison—An allotment of 2,100,000 tons of hard coal has been made to the northwest states. C. E. Spence, federal fuel distributor Wednesday advised P. H. Pressentin, secretary of the Wisconsin fuel committee. The allotment to Wisconsin, to be decided on in a conference at Washington this week will probably be one million tons, Mr. Pressentin says.

AMERICAN NAVY HOLDS "BATTLE"

BULLETIN

By Wireless to A. P.
On Board Battleship Wyoming off Virginia Capes—Aided by weather conditions described as most favorable, three squadrons of naval torpedo planes Wednesday fired 17 torpedoes at the battleship Arkansas and scored seven hits, theoretically sinking the ship after naval scout planes had searched out the Arkansas and three other battleships in a simulated battle attack off the capes.

On Board Battleship Wyoming off Virginia Capes—Under ideal weather conditions the four battleships of the Atlantic fleet against which a squadron of naval torpedo planes were ready to launch an "attack" early Wednesday, steamed out to sea from Lynnhaven roads at 5 o'clock to take up the secret positions off the Virginia capes in which they must first be located by the attacking planes. The battleships remained in the roads during the night but were expected to take a position at least 50 miles off the capes to await the attack.

Meanwhile more than a score of destroyers were stringing out between the capes and the battleships in order to be available to assist any plane which might be forced down during the flight from Hampton roads. Some also were to take position near the scene of the maneuvers in order to pick up the spent torpedoes from the planes. The battleships in the defense forces are the Wyoming, Arkansas, Delaware and North Dakota.

FRELINGHUYSEN IS VICTOR IN PRIMARY

By Associated Press
Newark, N. J.—United States Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, friend of President Harding and one of the administration leaders in congress, was nominated by the Republicans of New Jersey Tuesday in a sweeping victory of more than 2 to 1 over George L. Record, a Jersey City lawyer.

The senator carried 20 counties with little effort. Returns Wednesday forenoon from 2,054 of the 2,464 districts in the state gave him 146,533 votes against 69,922 for Record a lead of 77,611.

BADGER DAIRY JUDGES PROVE BEST IN TEST

By Associated Press
Madison — The Wisconsin stock judging team won second place in the national dairy judging contest being held at Waterloo, Ia., according to reports received at the college of agriculture here Wednesday.

The Badger team in competition with judging groups from ten other institutions took first in judging Guernseys and second in judging all other breeds. Members of the team are Raymond Klusendorf, Waukesha county; George Sery, Milwaukee county; Howard Jamison, Outagamie county; Donald Brance, Richland county; and R. F. Hulite of the College of Agriculture, coach.

FALLS IN HOT SULPHUR WHEN VALVE CLOGS

Interlake Pulp and Paper Co. Employee Is Seriously Burned

William Lueckel, 692 Oneida-st., employed for many years as acid-maker at the Interlake Pulp and Paper company plant, is in St. Elizabeth hospital with painful burns suffered during a sulphur fire in the sulphite department of the mill about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mr. Lueckel slipped and fell into burning sulphur that had overflowed onto the floor while trying to check the flow and prevent the fire from spreading. His hands were burned severely and he also has burns on the legs. He is resting comfortably and will recover.

Sulphur used in making acid was being melted in a container above the burner. Its flow to the burner is checked by a valve, and in some manner the valve became jammed and soon covered the surrounding floor. The workman struggled with the valve and would have closed it but he lost his footing and fell into the burning fluid.

Mr. Lueckel fainted but revived at once and summoned help. By this time the flames had spread to one of the sulphur bins. The fire department and the police ambulance was summoned and the man was taken to the hospital.

Water played on the flames extinguished them quickly, and with little loss except the consuming of a machine belt and a supply of the chemicals.

STUDENT DIES WHEN HE FAINTS IN BATH ROOM

Madison—Paul Schulz, Sheboygan, a senior medical student was found dead on the bathroom floor of his rooming house here late Tuesday. Death was caused by asphyxiation brought accidentally when the student fainted from a serious asthma attack. Schulz had been in poor health and had been advised by university doctors to return to his home. He planned to leave during the latter part of the week.

Hit By Train At 65 Miles An Hour; Likes It

Chelmsford, O.—"And that is all there is to it," said Blair Runyan, employee of the Ohio state highway commission as he lit a cigarette and walked away.

In 23 minutes the remains of what was once a five-ton automobile truck was cleared from the Pennsylvania tracks and the New York flyer proceeded on its way.

"Some persons are born lucky," mused the engineer. "Here is a fellow in a truck hit by a train going 65 miles an hour and not a scratch."

The motor truck which Runyan was driving was hit by the train at Kings Mills Ohio. The engine of the truck was thrown more than 200 feet and the truck filled with gravel, was dragged half a mile while the engineer made frantic efforts to stop the train. Instead of finding Runyan's body as they expected the train crew found him on the cow catcher of the engine uninjured.

"Thanks for the free ride, old top," said Runyan as passengers and crew rubbed their eyes.

VETS PARADE SHOWER G. A. R. WITH FLOWERS

Badger Drum Corps Leads Iron Brigade—Harding's Father In Line

Des Moines, Ia. — Bowed in body, thinned in ranks but stalwart in the spirit that sent them marching through history from Fort Sumter to Appomattox courthouse, the surviving veterans of the G. A. R. marched again, triumphant through the streets of Des Moines and passed in review before their commander in chief Wednesday.

As the command "forward march" rang out exactly at 10 o'clock, the platoon of police stepped off ahead of the veterans, and their staff of mounted officers and the American legion band blared out a military march that fixed the cadence for the following column.

OLD GLORY LEADS

Old Glory floated from a staff borne aloft by a husky United States marine and flanked by the regulation color guard.

Two cavalry units, the Fourteenth from Fort Des Moines, regular army men, and the first squadron of the 113th cavalry Iowa national guard preceded the marching hundreds of sons of veterans, many of them to be followed in the column by their warrior fathers whose exploits their organization seeks to perpetuate in the memory of America.

Side by side in the first automobile of the parade, General L. S. Pilcher, of Brooklyn, commander in chief of the G. A. R. and Hanford Macdonald of Mason City, Ia., commander of its twentieth century counterpart—the American legion—occupied the position of honor at the immediate head of the marching hosts of veterans. Six automobiles carried the other national officers of the grand army: Robert W. McBride, senior vice commander in chief; Henry A. Johnson, junior vice

POPE CABLES KEMAL: ASKS HALT OF WAR

Nationalist Troops Continue To Drift Toward British Zone

Rome—Pope Pius Tuesday cabled Mustafa Kemal Pasha urging that the Turkish commander adopt every possible measure to avoid further bloodshed.

BULLETIN
Constantinople — It is unofficially forecast that the Kemalist reply to the Allied peace note contains conditions unacceptable to the Allies, in that the nationalists insist upon the use of the straits for transporting troops to Thrace before the beginning of the peace conference.

Constantinople—While the Anatolian cabinet, sitting at Smyrna is completing its reply to the Allied note, the nationalist army continues its concentration of troops on the Ismid and Chanak lines. Mustafa Kemal Pasha now has 1,100 men in Kum Kaleli, at the mouth of the Dardanelles; 5,000 at Adramytti; 10,000 in the intervening points of Sanjak of Karamasi and considerable forces in the other areas.

The British are on less busy strengthening their lines and checking every move made by the nationalists. Further arrivals of military and naval units are daily augmenting their forces and inversely impairing Kemal's chances of successfully attacking the straits.

The British fleet now includes six dreadnoughts, seven cruisers, 20 destroyers and several submarines and aircraft carriers. The assembly of this great armada and the increase in the British land forces to upwards of 30,000 men have quieted the frayed nerves of the Christian population of the capital.

The Sultan's cabinet met in special session Tuesday and decided not to retire unless so ordered by Kemalish government.

U. S. NAVY TO WAR IN EAST, PARIS REPORT

Washington, However, Denies That This Is Plan Of Admiral

Paris—Vice Admiral Andrew T. Long, United States Navy Commander of the American naval forces in European waters has gone to Constantinople to direct the naval operations should any become necessary in participation with the foreign squadrons, it was stated here Wednesday.

DENIED AT CAPITOL

Washington—Paris news dispatches announcing that Vice Admiral Long of the American navy had gone to Constantinople, to direct possible naval operation were not understood in official circles here, where it was indicated that participation of American warships in any demonstration against the Turks was not a part of the present American policy toward the Near Eastern situation.

At the navy department it was said that so far as the Washington government had been advised, Admiral Long was on board his flagship, the Utah, either at Lisbon or on the way to Gibraltar, where he is due on Oct. 3. He has planned to go to Constantinople later, however, but only for observing conditions and cooperating with Rear Admiral Bristol in relief work.

NO CHANGE OF PLANS

The state department likewise was without official notification of any change in previous plans regarding the disposition of American warships in European waters in previous plans regarding the disposition of American warships in European waters and it was said that the policy of this government to confine its Near Eastern activities to relief measures remained unaltered.

It has been the intention of the navy department officials to have Admiral Long make his proposed trip to Constantinople on the cruiser Pittsburgh, which is due to leave Philadelphia about Oct. 1. Under the plan the admiral was to transfer his flag from the Utah to the Pittsburgh at Gibraltar and then proceed to the Near East for a general inspection tour.

REFUSES TO MAKE BABY BLOOD TEST

Hearing Of Tiernan-Poulin Case Ends—Expect Decision Saturday

Chicago—Dr. Albert Abrams, California specialist, has refused to make a private blood test to determine whether John Tiernan, Notre Dame law professor, is the father of his wife's baby boy, who Mrs. Tiernan says is the child of Harry Poulin, haberdasher of South Bend, Ind.

South Bend, Ind.—With hearings in the case of Harry Paulin, charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan with the paternity of her ten months' old child, ended, persons interested in the outcome were marking time Wednesday awaiting the verdict of Judge Ducomb which is scheduled to be announced Saturday morning. The hearings begun more than a week ago, came to a close late Tuesday, following completion of the closing arguments by contending counsel.

Battle Ships In Hands Of Rebels Steam To Athens

Cabinet Also Reported To Have Resigned As Officer With Routed Troops Organize Mutiny—Loss of Thrace Precipitates Crisis.

London—By The A. P.—Confirmation of King Constantine's abdication has been received by the British foreign office.

London—Greece is in the grip of a revolutionary movement and King Constantine is reported to have abdicated.

At least part of the navy has gone against the government and several warships and transports manned by revolutionaries are believed to be advancing on the capital from the Aegean islands where the revolt originated.

REBELS SEND ULTIMATUM

Athens—King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the cabinet which followed the reception of two ultimatums from the Cruiser Lemnos.

(The foregoing dispatch is dated in Athens Tuesday but the hour of filing was not indicated.)

A second ultimatum declared it was considered the National Assembly had already been dissolved and it demanded the creation of a pro-ente cabinet whose members would be appointed by the revolutionaries.

If no favorable reply had been received by midnight, it was declared disembarkation would be begun.

General Papoulas, recently appointed military governor of Thrace, proceeded to Laurium to negotiate with the revolutionaries.

Neither ultimatum spoke of the abdication of King Constantine, which was mentioned only in the airplane manifesto.

The Royalist organs consider however that abdication of the King in favor of the crown prince should not be excluded from the possibilities.

CENSORSHIP EVIDENT

Direct advices from Athens are lacking, indicating that censorship is in effect but the report of Constantine's abdication has persisted since the last dispatch, telling of the cabinet's resignation and the approach of a crisis was received late Tuesday night. The revolutionary movement is headed by an officer named Gonatas variously described as a general and a colonel, who organized the soldiers on the island of Mytilene of Chios, off the Smyrna coast to which they were removed following their crushing defeat by the Turkish nationalists. An order for the demobilization of these troops is said to have been the immediate cause of their mutiny.

The revolt spread quickly to the navy and many of the warships refused to answer queries sent out by admiralty. An airplane appeared over Athens and showered the city with pamphlets signed by Gonatas and demanding the resignation of the government and the abdication of the king. This created turmoil in the capital and crowds surged through the streets and about the public buildings. Then a number of the war vessels started for Athens.

TROOPS MUTINY

A large number of troops mutinied in Saloniki but this development is said to have taken the form of a military movement organized in Thrace against the Turks.

Official circles here believe former Premier Venizelos has had no part in the revolt. Because of his importance however, and his large personal following in Greece, it is pointed out that he will hardly be able to avoid figuring in the subsequent developments.

CONSTANTINE SIGNS TREATY

London—A Central news dispatch from Athens, timed 8:20 o'clock says King Constantine signed an abdication decree without reservation.

In accepting the resignation the King said he entirely put aside any idea of resistance which would bring, as a result, civil war in Greece.

The crown prince has abandoned his proposed journey to Rumania for the royal marriage.

SHIPS NEAR ATHENS

Paris—A Havas despatch from Athens not timed there received Tuesday afternoon, says: "The insurrectionist officials who have nine destroyers and naval airplanes, besides two warships, have landed troops at Cape Sunion on the Peninsula southeast of Athens. General Papoulas has been sent out to try to stop them."

"Martial law has been proclaimed. Gen. Koutzidis induced the garrison here to adhere to the revolutionary movement."

BANKER CLEARS SELF

Chicago — David E. Carlson, former cashier of the Cottage Grove State bank, missing ten days, cleared himself within an hour of his return, of blame in what was reported to be a $100,000 deficit in the bank's accounts, according to H. S. Savage, state bank examiner.

CITIZENS BATTLE 5 BANDITS; KILL 2

Eureka Springs, Ark.—Two unidentified bank bandits were killed, another fatally wounded and two others seriously shot Wednesday noon in a running battle with citizens after the five men had robbed the First National bank of this place of $25,000 in money and $50,000 in bonds. The money and bonds were recovered.

G. A. R. TO GATHER AROUND CAMP FIRE

Des Moines, Ia.—After Wednesday's great annual parade, veterans of the G. A. R. who are holding their Fifty-sixth annual encampment here, planned to take advantage of an afternoon with no scheduled activities to rest from the weariness of the march and of two preceding days of unwonted liveliness. The annual campfire will be held Wednesday. Past commanders and present officers of the G. A. R., state officials and others will address the veterans.

THREE HURT WHEN AUTOS LOCK HUBS

Six Persons Of Other Cities Figure In Night Collision On Second Ave.

Three persons were injured slightly about 10:15 Tuesday evening when automobiles driven by Joseph Wolf, South Kaukauna, and J. Hamilton, Milwaukee, locked front hubs and were damaged on Second ave. just east of the city limits.

The injured persons were Miss Elsie Paquette, 151 East Foster st., Neenah riding in the Wolf car and Mr. Hamilton and Miss Jane Merens, Milwaukee, occupants of the Hamilton machine. Miss Paquette suffered lacerations on the face. Miss Merens has a bruised nose and Mr. Hamilton has a laceration over the right eye and his body is bruised. The trio was conveyed to a doctor's office in the police ambulance.

Leiter Wendt, South Kaukauna and Miss Annie Hviand, 227 Second st., Neenah, who also were in the Wolf automobile were unhurt.

The Wolf car was proceeding west and the Hamilton car was going east. The cars kept too near the middle of the highway when passing each other and the crash followed. A right front wheel was torn off the Kaukauna man's machine.

ENGINEER UNION PLANS 21-STORY BANK BUILDING

Bank Gained Business of Almost Million a Month During Last Year

Cleveland, O.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has announced the completion of plans for the erection of a 21-story banking building here, to contain the main office of the largest cooperative banking institution in the country.

At the same time word comes from Washington that U. S. Comptroller of Currency D. R. Crissinger has authorized the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Cooperative National Bank to establish bank offices in the heart of the city, as well as in the populous East End, near the railroad shops and manufacturing districts.

PURCHASE BUILDING

The Engineers Brotherhood recently purchased the Union Commerce National Bank building, on Euclid Avenue in the heart of the city and it was reported that this building would become the permanent home for the big cooperative bank.

Now the big financial and realty developments just made public show that the 16-story banking building was acquired merely to house one of several important offices of the bank.

Officials of the bank have further disclosed plans for the erection of a new building in the Nottingham district to house the office in that section.

CHOOSE SITE

The new 21-story main building work on which will be started shortly, will occupy the corner across the street from the 14-story building built by the brotherhood in 1908 as its national headquarters.

During its erection the main office of the bank will be moved to the 16-story structure just acquired.

The most modern and efficient banking equipment will be installed in the new building, giving the Brotherhood Co-operative National Bank one of the finest banking premises in the city.

The action of the Brotherhood Co-operative Bank in expanding its business and holdings at the present time, is due to the work of its officers, who include Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the brotherhood, as president, William B. Prenter, its secretary and treasurer, as vice president and cashier, and Walter F. McCaleb vice president and manager.

Starting with only $653,000 in paid up stock less than two years ago, the brotherhood bank gained almost a million dollars a month during the first year and has already nearly doubled its resources in the second year.

Assets of the bank at the close of business on August 29, 1922, were $17,547,402.35.

NEENAH AUTO BUS IS THREATENED BY FIRE

One of the motorbuses of the Homan line between Appleton and Neenah was damaged by fire at mid night Monday night while parked in front of the Continental clothing store. The flames were confined to the front end and were extinguished by chemicals used by the fire department.

Hundreds of Persons Clamor for Motion Picture Tickets Offered by Advertisers in Appleton Post-Crescent

Five minutes after the Post-Crescent was on the streets Tuesday afternoon advertisers who purchased space in the special page in connection with advertising "The Storm," a great motion picture which opens at Appleton theatre Wednesday night were besieged by persons who had solved the "puzzles" and were clamoring for free tickets. Forty tickets were given away by the ten advertisers on the page to the first persons who established the identity of the advertisers and applied for the tickets.

Merchants were called by telephone until late at night by persons who had solved the "puzzles" and hundreds crowded into the lobby of the theatre seeking advice on a means of reaching the advertisers.

The feature proved beyond all contravention that Post-Crescent advertising is read.

Robert Heigel and Sherman Kamps left for Niagara Falls Tuesday where they will be employed in the new mill of Kimberly-Clark Co.

A. J. Hauert has returned from a business trip to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Business Girls Consider Plans To Reorganize

At a meeting which lasted from 7:30 to 10:30 Tuesday evening, a group of business and professional women made plans for the reorganization of the Business and Professional Women's club. Several members of the former club presented the various plans and reasons for reorganization and a discussion of each part of the program followed.

A committee including Miss Mable Sibley, chairman, Miss Bessie Mjils, Miss Mabel Robt and Miss Muriel Kelly was appointed to draft a constitution and present it to the meeting on Wednesday evening, Oct. 11. This committee also will act as an affiliation committee to meet with a committee appointed by Appleton Women's club to talk over all the plans and possibilities of making the business and professional group a part of the larger organization.

VESTRYMEN PLAN RALLY FOR ALL SAINTS CHURCH

Plans for an all-parish rally were made at a dinner and meeting of the nine vestrymen of All Saints church at the Sherman house Tuesday noon. The Rev. Paul O. Keicher and Fred E. Schmitz will have charge of the gathering which is to be held Thursday evening, Oct. 5.

A heating plant for the church also was discussed.

The details of Appleton's Biggest Bag Sale will appear on Page 5 in tomorrow's paper.

THE STAGE

Eight Victor Artists
The Eight Famous Victor Artists of which organization Monroe Silver is a prominent member, will again entertain local music lovers according to an announcement made by Carroll's Music shop Victor dealers, at the Lawrence Memorial chapel, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 3. Many will remember these entertainers from last season.

Monroe Silver, Silver with his parodies and "Cohen" stories scored heavily with Smithville funlovers. This year he has a series of new jokes and songs that will rival those of last year.

"Cohen" of which character Silver makes his fun, does not truly exist as many people think. He is the product of Silver's brain. And it keeps him busy finding out new things that his character might do. "Cohen" has lived through one war, that which engulfed the world a few years ago and now he is fighting another one this time with his wife and family. Its a toss up from day to day as to the outcome but you can guess, with Silver, that "Cohen" won't lose this one.

Coming with Silver are seven other famous entertainers, Henry Burr, Billy Murray, Albert Campbell, John Meyer, Frank Croton, Rudy Wied, and Frank Banta. And then too the Sterling Trio and The Peerless Quartet are made up of members in the company and will be on the program.

WILLING TO GIVE GIRLS ANY KIND OF CLUB THEY WANT

Supper Clubs Will Be Among Innovations at Woman's Club Room For This Year

If your motto is "What is a club without a supper?" you are the very girls for whom Appleton Woman's club is looking for. Supper clubs of groups of girls who wish to remain downtown once a week will be one of the new club ideas at the clubroom under the direction of Miss Martha Chandler, who is making every effort to give the girls in the recreation department the kind of clubs which they want.

"Tell the girls to tell us what they want in the line of clubs," said Miss Chandler, "and if it is at all possible we will get it for them. If there is a group of girls who wish to form a social club, tell them to join in a body and we will help them all we can."

All the clubs which the girls had last year will be renewed, including the dramatic club, the Woodcraft league, the TM TM group, and the glee club. The drama club will be divided into two groups, these girls those who are just beginning their dramatic work. The riding club, which will be established as soon as Edward Pfeil brings his horses to Appleton, already has 26 members. Hours and groups for riding will be determined soon.

Girls who have been members of the clubs before and who wish to continue their work are requested to register at once. Officers of the recreation department wish to determine the number of girls in each club as soon as possible.

NEW COUNTERFEIT NOTES CIRCULATING

Counterfeit notes of $5, $10 and $20 denominations are being passed in the state, according to warnings received in Appleton. Frequently, it is claimed, automobilists have passed them at filling stations and garages. The $5 bills are silver certificates on the United States treasury and show fair workmanship. They are two pieces of printed paper pasted together between which silk threads have been distributed. The blue seal, V, and figure 5 are printed too light. The $10 note is on the First National bank of Ozone Park, N. Y., and has a picture of McKinley, but charter numbers on the face and border do not correspond. The $20 note is on the Grand Rapids City bank of Michigan and the charter numbers on this note are also confused.

BAPTISTS SEND NINE DELEGATES TO CONFERENCE

Annual Convention Will Be Held in Oshkosh Early Next Month

Appleton will be represented at the Wisconsin Baptist convention at Oshkosh Oct. 9, 10, 11 and 12 by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Stallman, Mrs. J. B. Laughlin, Mrs. H. A. Sanborn, Mrs. E. C. Clark, Mrs. E. E. Arnold and Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Between 400 and 500 delegates representing Baptist denominations throughout the state are expected to attend. Sessions will be held at Baptist Temple and an elaborate program has been arranged.

The opening feature will be the meeting of the ministerial union on Monday evening, Oct. 9. An address by Dr. H. F. Stilwell, entitled, "A Basic Program," will be the principal event and will be supplemented with a program of organ music and special singing.

Dr. Sherman Wallace will deliver the annual sermon Tuesday morning, Oct. 10. A business session will be held at 9:20 a. m., for the report of committees.

Simultaneously, the annual meeting of the Women's State Missionary society will be held and will be featured largely with business matters and reports of the secretary and directors. Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 10, the complete organization of the Baptist state convention will convene and H. E. Os good, president of the Oshkosh Association of Commerce, will deliver an address of welcome. Other speakers will be Pres. E. J. Steinberg, R. W. Shaw and Clarence A. Barbour.

A layman's banquet will be held at 5:30 and in the evening Mr. Barbour will deliver a lecture on "The Supreme Function of the Church."

The speakers on Wisconsin day, Wednesday, Oct. 11, will include Dr. A. L. LeGrand, state superintendent of the Wisconsin Baptist society, who for several years was pastor of the local Baptist church.

The concluding day of the convention, Oct. 12, will be devoted to discussions pertaining to the "Uplift of Christ Beyond Wisconsin."

NAME DELEGATES TO CHURCH MEETING

The Congregational church will elect its delegates to the annual Wisconsin Congregational convention at Janesville Oct. 2-5 next Thursday evening.

The convention program is one of deep church interest. The conference sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Charles M. Seal of Milwaukee. An address will be given by Lewis Wallis, member of Joseph Fels commission, on "The Church and the Industrial Crisis." President Birge of the University of Wisconsin, is scheduled for an address.

Dr. Silas Evans will speak on the subject, "The Church and the School. What God Hath Joined Together." Charles Clayton Morrison of the Christian Century will speak on "Christian Unity," while Hon. A. E. Mathewson of Janesville will speak on "Law Enforcement."

The closing address will be given by President Orza Davis of the Chicago Seminary on "Problems and Program of the Local Church."

ST. JOSEPH PLAYERS WILL PRESENT PLAY TWO NIGHTS

Oct. 15 and 16 have been selected as the definite dates for the presentation of the 3-act farce, "Jealous Hearts," under the auspices of the young people of St. Joseph church. Two nights were selected for the performance in view of the success of the last amateur theatrical, "Her Gloves," which was presented to two full houses last spring.

The farce will be staged in St. Joseph hall. George T. Richard, who directed the rehearsals, and the performance of "Her Gloves," will again supervise the work. The cast is somewhat smaller than that of the last play. Every act is full of ludicrous incidents and the lines are "excruciatingly funny."

The Womans Relief Corps will hold a Rummage, Food and Apron Sale, Thursday, Sept. 28 at the Armory.

Dance at the Greenville Park Pavilion, Thursday, Sept. 28. Gib. Horst's Imperial Players. Busses leave Pettibone's at 8 and 9 P. M.

Dance at 12 Corners, Sept. 29.

OUR FOREIGN COMMERCE

There are some facts about our foreign trade, as bearing upon our national, commercial and fiscal policy, which deserve sober reflection. From January 1st to August 1st of this year we sent to Europe about $687,000,000 worth of goods more than Europe shipped us. This, when it comes to balancing the books, leaves us figuratively in the hole at a rate of approximately $1,000,000,000 a year. Of course some of this trade debt is balanced in gold, but only a fraction of it. The rest of it is credit, and the mystery is where the funds for financing this credit come from. On the surface it might appear that this further extension of credit is helping Europe to its reconstruction, and while this is true in a sense, in reality it is increasing her back-breaking debt. There is only one way in which this commercial debt can be met and that is by favorable trade balances with other countries, which have not yet developed.

Our trade with South America, while growing, as it should, is the other way. For the first seven months of 1922 our exports in South American countries totaled about $122,000,000, but in the same months we bought from South America $65,000,000 more than we sold her. Our trade with Asiatic countries—China, Japan, India, etc.—is also of the same character. During the first seven months of the year our exports to Asia totaled $273,000,000, but Asia shipped us $161,000,000 more than we shipped her. Our favorable trade balances should be in South America and Asia rather than in Europe, for they are better able to discharge balances in gold. Logically the situation as it now exists should be the reverse, at least until Europe gets back upon its feet, for it is by importing more than we export that we can best hope to get back what we have loaned Europe.

If the effect of the new tariff, as it seems certain it will be, is to further increase the disparity between our purchases and sales in Europe it will impose an additional strain upon American credit and will involve Europe the deeper in financial chaos. If, at the same time, the effect of the new tariff is to reduce both European exports and imports by barring a larger amount of foreign goods to entry, thereby curtailing the foreigner's purchasing power, it will react against American industry and American commerce. This is the time of all times when we cannot afford to have, cannot expect to have, juggling trade with Europe. We may be sure that the wisdom of our present policy will be subjected to the acid test in the comparatively near future.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

President Harding has named Monday, October 9, as fire prevention day. To most persons his proclamation looks like a perfunctory act.

The truth is however that fire prevention day concerns the public more than it does the insurance companies. The people, not the insurance companies, pay the fire losses, for the premiums which the public pays are the real losses.

There should be vigorous publicity in this and every city on October 9 for fire prevention. A mayor's proclamation could well inform the public as to the necessity for preventing fires. We might even organize a fire prevention committee to educate the people in preventing fires.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address: Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE PROHIBITION SOUSE

Almost anywhere any day, if you will look about you will see boys ranging in age from 12 to 18 years, according to the general moral depravity of the community, smoking cigarettes and doing it in a manner that plainly spells "showing off." You and I, whether we smoke or drink or not, remember such boys in our day. If we trace them we find that many of them turned out bad eggs and are now dead, in prison or human derelicts of one type or another. The trouble with such boys isn't just drunkenness or rowdiness; the trouble is inherent mental defect; the very moans, mental weakness and to make anything of them requires a great deal more care and watchfulness on the part of parents than it does to train boys of average or normal mentality. You will recollect how such boys were invariably slow and backward in school, worldly wise, to be sure and dangerously so in view of their close association in school with normal youngsters, but high grade imbeciles nevertheless.

As late as 20 years ago drinking was still well connived at by the business and professional world and the public at large. A doctor, lawyer, merchant or thief might make a beast of himself at more or less frequent intervals and still keep his place in popular esteem. There were still a few very old fashioned folk who actually argued that a carousal made the doctor, lawyer, merchant or thief all the better when he sobered up! But for several years before prohibition settled over the country drinking had come to be a mark of the inefficient and a resort of the incompetent and public opinion had veered around to a point which encouraged a man to say on any occasion and without any apology that he was on the water wagon.

I have received numerous letters from readers chiefly women, who tell how a brother, a father or a husband has become a "prohibition drunkard." Usually the man has always been a moderate or occasional drinker, but now that even moderate or occasional drinking is discouraged by the government, the man has become a "show" man, by making a bigger fool of himself than he has ever been before and incidentally bringing unhappiness and humiliation upon those who by rights are entitled to respect from him. Is there any hope for such a specimen? Can he be restored by any form of discipline or treatment?

The ordinary alcoholic may be successfully freed from his craving by a comparatively simple and inexpensive course of medical treatment by a good physician in any hospital or clinic or at home, if the services of a well trained nurse or attendant can be had. There are various methods or treatment successfully administered, such as the method given to the medical profession several years ago by Dr. Alexander Lambert, and which has restored some awful bums to sobriety and industry. Don't write to me about the method. It is familiar to, or at least readily available to every physician.

Of course no secret treatment is worth a hoot and only humbugs purport to be of any value against alcoholism, drug habit or tobacco habit when administered without the victim's knowledge. Indeed, unless the habitué himself earnestly desires to be cured and earnestly co-operates in the treatment, it is useless to undertake any treatment. The "prohibition souse" is a very low order. Only a thoroughgoing fool will swallow the stuff that the bootleggers supply. Yet even such a defective may be saved.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Why Salt Water?
What is the advantage in placing sliced cucumbers in salt water? Does the salt water remove any harmful or poisonous substances?
—(M. S.)

Answer—Cucumbers are more palatable and wholesome to eat just sliced raw, without any such salt water soaking.

Carrots Make Skin Yellow
The other day I read an article by a doctor who claimed that eating carrots in quantity will cause the skin to assume a yellowish tinge. Is that true, and if it is, isn't there some food which will whiten the skin?
—(Caroline)

Answer—It is true that if an extraordinary amount of carrots are included in the diet a slight yellowish tinge is imparted to the skin, at least to the palms and soles. Try eating a lot of potatoes. "Preties" make the Irish girl's skin clear and white.

Bran Cookies
One of our neighbors despants on the goodness and excellent effect of Doctor Brady's Bran Cookies. She declares that these miraculous cookies have freed her entire household from the liver pill habit. Wonder whether the long suffering but kindly doctor would be willing to publish his recipe for those cookies.—(W. U. D.)

Answer—Beat together two tablespoonsful of butter, one egg and one-half cupful of milk. Add to this one cupful of wheat bran, one cupful of white flour, one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of graham flour, one-fourth cupful of molasses, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Drop the mixed batter by a spoon or well greased tin. Bake half an hour in a hot oven.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

KILLING OF BONUS BILL

GENERALLY IS APPROVED

The veto by President Harding of the soldiers bonus bill has met with general editorial approval. The fact that Congress failed to make the slightest provision to meet the financial requirements of the measure made the legislation impossible, even in the view of those who are inclined to favor it. It is accepted, however, that as a result of the language of the veto, and the favorable vote in the House and Senate, the issue is very far from being a dead one.

"Both courage and wisdom are displayed in the President's veto message," the Newark NEWS asserts. "He makes his first important use of this great power of the Executive to prevent a really insincere raid on the Treasury by men who seek, for political ends, to be written down as lawmakers friendly to the service men, and yet are unwilling to assume the obligation of taxing for the money to pay the bill." This is also the opinion of the Buffalo NEWS which thinks the "attention of the country has been sharply drawn to the deficit in prospect," and of the Lynchburg NEWS, which argues that the bonus would "establish a precedent which in the end must very well result in impairing the nation's entire financial structure." The veto, according to the Springfield REPUBLICAN, "is no less courageous because this display of courage has been discounted in advance. Unfortunately the bonus has to a certain extent a sectional bias, being most strongly demanded in sections which will profit most from it economically." "Whether one agrees with the President or not, the Bridgeport POST holds that "his statement is consistent and courageous. Indeed his stand is the most definite and clear cut yet taken by him on any great public issue, and when it is considered that he opposed a majority of Congress and braved the wrath of a large and well organized body of men who seek the bonus, the President must be credited for a degree of political hardihood which was, not commonly supposed to possess."

There was, however, no other course for the President to pursue, the Springfield UNION holds, because "if the people favored a bonus to able-bodied soldiers they should be willing to pay the tax necessary to cover it. The position taken was, and is, perfectly logical and sound." And in thus acting as he did the NORFOLK LEDGER DISPATCH argues that "he has seized the opportunity to regain the confidence of the people which has been shaken by several actions indicating something seriously akin to infirmity of purpose," but it feels that "it is disquieting to think that the President commits himself, and so far as he is able to do so, commits the country to a vast pension system at some future time. Meanwhile, however, he understands and sets out the fact that a bonus grant today would be the first step, and for that reason, among others he disapproves." The further endorsing such opinion the New York GLOBE sets forth that the veto "is the President's most distinguished act as President of the United States," and that he "refused to connive in a bit of legislative cowardice and dishonesty."

Agreeing that the bill was "as poor as it could possibly be," the Wichita EAGLE takes sharp issue with its opponents and finds "two sad features" of the veto, "one that its corollary is the further restriction of the rights of the soldier, and the other that the bonus, now vetoed, probably never can be revived." This is not the opinion of the Norfolk VIRGINIAN PILOT, however, which argues that "the bonus bill comes back from the White House vetoed as to provisions but approved as to principle. In a less less preoccupied with retirement, which he properly financed through new taxation, will not journey to the White House in vain."

The Wall Street JOURNAL holds that the President "establishes once and for all the fact that he does not consider the country under any cash obligation to those who come unscathed out of the war. We all know how pensions were legislated in the past, and we cannot believe that the politician in the future, especially after this monument to dishonesty, will be any more honest than those in the half-century following the Civil War. We may cross the bridge when we come to it, but in the meantime the President stands between the politicians and the people, a defender of the public honor." To which the Socialistic New York CALL replies by declaring that "the amount that the bill called for could have been taken from the class which made millions out of the war and legislation could have prevented them from passing the tax on to the people on whose backs they live. Were the people in control of the Government this would have been done."

In common with the country the President's "heart is generous toward the service men," the Philadelphia EVENING BULLETIN asserts, "but the nation at large is of paramount importance even to the millions of men who fought for it. The President cannot risk its credit. The veto is sound, logical, convincing. It is fiscal statesmanship, putting to shame the pretty politics of a supposedly representative Congress." The Richmond NEWS LEADER argues that the veto "is quite the most impressive paper that has come from the White House since Wilson's day." This also is the opinion of the Baltimore SUN, which asserts that "for once the President has thrust aside all thought of politics. Even those who oppose him on this issue must respect his sincerity and courage, and must realize that he has met a great issue like a man."

All of the New York papers commend the President in strong language for his action holding that he "proved his courage" by his stand on this subject. THE WORLD says it was a "statesmanship act," the TRIBUNE that "he put group and local issues aside," the TIMES that "he prevented the piling of an intolerable burden on the back of the country," and the remainder of the comment of this group is along similar lines.

The Roanoke WORLD NEWS believes that the veto "is unquestionable in line with the desire of the country as a whole," but it feels that, while "disposed of for the present, it is by no means a dead issue. It may with certainty be expected to reappear in the next Congress, and it is by no means certain that it will not return before the fourth of next March." That is also the view of the Cleveland ELAIN DEALER which also points out that "the next Congress will be obliged to take up the issue where the present one left off, but it can scarcely fall upon a more undesirable bill than the one just defeated nor is the treasury likely to be in a worse position to assume the financial burden."

AMERICA AND FRANCE

Paris.—Writing in LE FIGARO Senator Lazare Weiller, says:

"What struck me most during my trip to the United States was the continual evolution of this great nation, of this great people, by the perpetual afflux of distinct elements from a foreign soil, coming down from distant nations and peoples. What is the United States, with its English, Italian, Slav, German, Greek, elements, is not a new Europe, an example of that federation of nations which is but an ideal dream on this side of the Atlantic."

"America seemed strong from all points of view, with energies renewed and multiplied by the European races, of which she is composed, and I was of opinion that her influence on the Old World would one day be tremendous."

"I did not foresee them that a world war would give the opportunity. The war has ended and where are we? The decision which threw the United States into the conflict, brought millions of Americans to our land, thousands of tombs cover the remains of American heroes fallen for our liberty. The compact of friendship which has united our two peoples for nearly a century and a half, is sealed for eternity."

"But do our peoples know each other? Is there between our two democracies that mutual penetration of the mind without which all emotions of the heart remain unsatisfactory? When I was in the States, I saw all races of Europe continuing their ethical supplies and being absorbed into what constitutes new America. Only France was not represented or only in negligible quantities."

"No change is likely to take place in this situation. It is not only because of her low birth-rate that France has few emigrants. There are other causes which explain the attachment of her children to their native soil. The almost total absence of ethical development of the United States is in many ways a disadvantage for us. There is no doubt that numbers of Germans find a hearing among millions of German-Americans for which we have no equivalent."

"The common language provides England with a marvelous instrument of persuasion. We are helpless against these advantages which the nature of things gives to our ex-enemies and to some of our former allies."

"But it does not follow that Franco-American friendship is less real. France, though absent physically from the United States is always present in the heart of the people. All through the century, France has followed with passionate curiosity the evolution of the great democracy beyond the Ocean."

"If we compare the immortal dates which shine out in the history of the world like light-houses of liberty, 1778 and 1918, we see that in spite of the immense difference of human and material values, there is a great similarity between the part that France played in the 18th century in the liberation of America, and that which belongs to America in the 20th, in the liberation of France."

"Among the companions of La Fayette and among the soldiers of Pershing there was the same abandonment to a pure ideal, the same disinterested surrender of self. It was not France, it was America in her birth, which was victorious in 1778 on the banks of the Hudson. And the 50,000 Americans who gave their lives in 1918 do not claim along the honor of victory for which nearly two million of our sons fell."

"What France chiefly brought to America in 1778, and what America chiefly brought again to France in 1918 was confidence, the indispensable element of victory."

"And since our victory has wounded us, since we are condemned to fight still on the battle-field of finance and economy, what do we still expect from America. Always the same. The same strength, confidence, the same sacrifice. France is no beggar. During her glorious history she has always paid her glory and often that of others. At the present time she shows the world a picture of prodigious labor. American delegations which visit our country are witnesses of this gigantic effort of a whole people who have not waited until their wounds had healed before returning to the plough and the factory."

"It was my pride and my joy some years ago to show my compatriots the tremendous work of America and the beauties of the American mind—My American friends will understand if I show them sometimes the marvels of French courage and energy."

Fixing Responsibility

A mother in an eastern city sues neighbors for $5000 damages, claiming that they taught her child to swear.

Rare cases like this are attempts to fix responsibility at its source. The idea could be applied many ways.

The man who, crazed by bootleg liquor, commits a murder, usually is not as guilty as the criminal who sold the liquor. The drug vender, by all rules of common sense, is responsible for most of the crimes committed by drug addicts.

Inciting to crime is on a par with inciting to riot.

The New Yorker, who started for San Francisco in a "prairie schooner" drawn by oxen nearly two years ago, reaches Colorado. He should arrive at destination early in 1924.

Editorial writers then will point out how he could have made the trip in a few days by airplane. Much will be said about the wonders of modern transportation, compared with grandpa's day.

However, if you had your choice, you'd prefer the slow trip behind oxen, camping along the way. Most of us are speed maniacs, due to our nerves, though we know that real happiness is not by speed. People were happier before they had "modern wonders."

When high tariff goes into effect, consumers discover that the tariff duties are added to what they pay for imported goods. That sets the new known. Loan secured by collateral. Bel Nadin Shun loaned 30 bushels of dates and took a mortgage on a farm as security.

The problem of rural finance is as old as this brick-and-mortar world. Basic problems remain unchanged in all centuries, occasionally changing masks.

Q. Why does the state of New York recognize a divorce obtained, say, in Reno when the grounds for divorce in Nevada are so different from the grounds in New York? E. T.

A. The Constitution of the United States imposes certain obligations upon the states in their dealing with each other. Section I, Article IV, providing that "Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other state. This clause has been held to mean that, in civil cases, when the courts of one state have given a judgment such judgment will be recognized and enforced by the courts of every other state without a new trial. It also means that contracts legally entered into in one state are binding and enforceable in another. In the matter of divorce, to recognize a state is required to recognize a divorce granted in any state, even though it may have been granted for reasons for which the laws of the first state would not allow a divorce.

Q. How many apartment houses are there in New York City? J. E.

A. The New York City classified directory lists 4,600 apartment houses on Manhattan Island and in the Bronx. There are thousands of other apartments in smaller buildings.

Q. Is it proper to drink consommé from a cup or to use a spoon? M.

A. It is proper to use the spoon. The first few spoonfuls of consommé may continue to use the spoon or may lift the cup and sip its contents.

Q. What are the crop conditions in Great Britain? S. T.

A. According to the Department of Agriculture, the estimate of crop conditions in Great Britain, as published in the London Times, is 88.36 per cent of the average conditions for wheat, 76.3 for barley, 74.19 for oats, 85.77 for beans, 83.97 for potatoes, and 75.5 for root crops. The hay crop is reported to be the smallest ever gathered or grown.

KEEP YOUR GLANDS IF YOU WOULD LIVE TO RIPE OLD AGE

Woman Physician Points Out
Danger of Putting New
"Pep" Into Body

By GENE COHN

San Francisco—"Anyone who submits himself to a gland transplanting operation, in the hope of perpetuating his youth, merely is cutting short his life."

This is the verdict of Dr. Eva Charlotte Reid, professor of psychiatry at the University of California, noted woman criminologist and a foremost student of gland experimentations.

"One important thing has been overlooked in gland transplantation theory," she says, "an old machine is going to be asked to undertake heavier work than ever before."

"There will be, because of such an operation, the inclination toward increased activity, and the apparent ability to carry out these activities."

"With the feeling of rejuvenation will come the tendency to undertake things that otherwise a man would consider himself incapable of."

"But all this time the walls of the arteries will not have changed, the old machine will be operating in a rejuvenated body. And there lies the danger—the danger of overstrain and overexertion, that outwardly and psychologically seems simple."

"My prediction in any case of this kind is that the man is more likely, or just as likely, to die years from his life as to add to them."

Dr. Reid has made a close study of the effects of glands on human behavior, particularly as applied to crime.

"Little as science has advanced in this new study we do know that the glands shape man's destiny—determine his weight, the color of his hair, his intelligence, his mental and physical peculiarities."

"One experiment has shown 90 per cent of wayward girls, subjected to a test, to have overproductive thyroid glands. Physicians can regulate secretions."

PUBLIC SPEAKING AID TO SUCCESS

Rasey Tells College Men To Take Interest in Debate
And Oratory

"Public speaking is not a requisite for success, but certainly is a great advantage," said Lee C. Rasey in speaking to the men of Lawrence college at the reception given by the forensic board in Main hall on Tuesday evening. "A man may well succeed without having a public speaking course in college, but he would find his work along this line of great value every day in his career."

Mr. Rasey developed the idea that work in public speaking gives a person poise, makes him sure of himself and enables him to express his ideas with greater certainty. Albert Farns-ke told of the honors which could be gained at Lawrence college as a result of work in oratory and debate, while Prof. F. W. Orr told of the courses and activities offered at the college. Karl Windesheim reviewed the record of Lawrence in debate and oratory in the time that Prof. Orr has been in charge of the department.

TAKE EVIDENCE IN AUTO WRECK CASE

A large number of witnesses were heard in circuit court Wednesday in the damage suit instituted by George Curtis of Greenville, against H. G. Price, Dale depot agent, growing out of an automobile accident which occurred June 25 on the Dale-rd. The court recessed at noon, and the case was to be resumed Wednesday afternoon. Curtis alleges that he suffered a broken shoulder, broken arm and broken ribs, in the collision with the Price car. He is represented by Bradford and Bradford, while Fred V. Hennemann is defending Price.

PARTIES

A meeting of the social committee of Appleton Teachers association will be held at the vocational school Wednesday evening. The purpose is to arrange a program for the coming year.

Mrs. R. M. Bagg and Mrs. Frank Tabor, 7 Brookway-pl., entertained at a handkerchief shower, Tuesday afternoon. The shower was for Miss Constance Johnson who is to be married soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Fredericks entertained at dinner at their home in Oshkosh on Tuesday evening. Among the Appleton guests were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weinlauf, Miss Muriel Kelly and C. H. Kelly.

U. S. CLOSES POSTAL AGENCY IN SHANGHAI

The United States postal agency maintained at Shanghai, China, will be discontinued on or about Dec. 31, according to information received at the local postoffice from the postmaster general. This is in accordance with the agreement made at the conference for the limitation of mail agencies at Washington last year that all foreign postal agencies in China be withdrawn before the last of the year. No mail for this agency will be received after Nov. 30. On and after Dec. 1 all mail addressed to Shanghai will be subject to international postage rates and conditions. Parcel post to Shanghai will be accepted up to the maximum weight of 50 pounds.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The Rev. F. H. Ohlrogge and Mrs. Emma Kuehne, both of Seymour, have filed an application for marriage licenses with the county clerk.

THE FACE IN THE MIRROR

Your face, does it wear the contented expression of good health, or are the features drawn and pale? In the latter case, your story is read by all who see you, and what woman of spirit wants to be pitied for her physical condition? There is a way to get the nervous, tired lines out of your face and the slump out of your body. The use of that standard remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will strengthen the nerves and tone up the system to resist that excessive fatigue.

SPLITTER MUST SPEND YEAR IN COUNTY BASTILE

Stiff Sentence Meted Out To Man Found Guilty Of Selling Liquor

One of the severest sentences ever imposed upon unlawful liquor traffickers in this county was meted out by Judge Edgar V. Werner of the circuit court Tuesday to Julius H. Splitter, 697 Maple Grove-st., after a jury found him guilty of possession and sale of illicit liquor.

Splitter has been sentenced to one year at hard labor in the county workhouse. In addition he received a cash fine of $200, in default of which he will have to spend not more than 30 additional days in the county jail. One-quarter of the sentence may be remitted if the prisoner establishes a record for good behavior in the workhouse.

This Bedroom Suite Has Personality Which Expresses Itself in Simple Lines

SIMPLICITY in the bedroom is a sign of refinement. Furniture of simple lines permits the useful colorful decorative accents in the draperies and spreads. This is very desirable at a time when bright colors in the bedroom are in vogue.

Convenience is another quality this suite possesses. The mirrors are large and the drawers roomy and dust-proof. It comes in combination walnut and gum wood. There are four pieces, including full size bed, chifforobe, and dressing table with bench. Price for the complete suite — $185.00.

This Suite is now set up in our second floor, newly furnished bedroom, where you will be interested in seeing it.

The Dresser

A rather impressive-looking piece of furniture with large mirror. Two long spacious drawers and two smaller ones that are dust-proof will keep your lingerie and accessories neat and clean.

The Bed

The beauty of the wood used in this suite shows up distinctly in the bed. It needs no gewgaws to affect prettiness — the wood itself is handsome.

The Chifforobe

A more practical piece of furniture was never made. Four large trays concealed behind two doors would seem room enough to hold any man's wardrobe. But with the large drawer, there is no doubt about having space for everything.

The Dressing Table

What woman would not love to primp up before a beautiful piece of furniture like this? And with the convenient bench makes it a very comfortable piece of furniture to dress by.

Kaukauna—Failure of a fellow workman to warn traffic passing on upper Lawe-st about 3:30 Tuesday afternoon resulted in a fractured skull for Richard Burton, Green Bay employee of the Wisconsin Public Service Co. who was pulled from a pole on which he was working when a car was tangled in wire hanging in the street. Burton was thrown head first to the pavement. He was rushed to St. Elizabeth hospital where his condition was said to be serious and not much changed Wednesday morning.

The Service Company crew was engaged in moving a trolley post and a man had been detailed to watch the street in order to warn passing cars.

BUS ORDINANCE IS PLACED IN EFFECT

Kaukauna—The ordinance for bus regulation in this city went into effect Monday morning. The ordinance, which was passed at the city council meeting, establishes a license fee of $25 a year for each bus operating in the city. Auto buses are prohibited from discharging or taking on passengers on Lawe-st from Wisconsin-ave to Sarah-st. They may pass through the restricted zone, however, and park on Doty-st. opposite the Van Leishout garage or may stop on Wisconsin-ave in front of the bank. Stops also are being made on Lawe-st at the head of the bridge.

Only two companies operate in Kaukauna. The bus running from Appleton to Kaukauna maintains half hour service and one running from Appleton to Green Bay has a two hour schedule.

WOMAN JUMPS WHEN
CAR RUNS BACKWARD

Kaukauna—Mrs. Mezzella Birmingham of Sturgeon Bay, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Lambie will be required to extend her visit here indefinitely as a result of an accident in which she dislocated her shoulder and suffered a fracture of the bone. Mrs. Lambie had taken her mother for an automobile ride and had stopped to visit the old sulphur springs on the north side. While turning around on a rather steep incline the engine was killed and the car started backward down the hill. Mrs. Birmingham jumped from the car before the emergency brake could be applied. She fell against a tree. The car was easily stopped.

Social Items

Kaukauna—Frank K. Grogan was reelected grand knight of the Kaukauna Knights Council, of Columbus, Monday evening in K. C. hall. Other officers also were reelected. They are Louis Faust, deputy grand knight; John Klisdonk, financial secretary; Lester Brenzel, recording secretary; John T. Timmers, treasurer; Frank Mitchka, warden; Frank McCormick, advocate; A. D. Godfrey, Nick Heindl, John Jansen, trustees.

The Parent-Teachers association of Nicolet school will begin activities early this season and will hold its first meeting Thursday evening in the Nicolet school. Officers were elected late last year. A secretary still is to be elected.

Club No. 5, Ladies of St. Mary church, will give a card party and dance in Elk hall Friday evening. Cards will be played until 10 o'clock and dancing will follow until 1 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Juergenmeyer entertained at a surprise party in honor of Mrs. Sumner Norton, whose birthday anniversary it was. Games were played. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. August Artz, Mr. and Mrs. A. Deno, Mr. and Mrs. George Rupert, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Homer of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kanenberg, Oshkosh; Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Mayerhoff, Milwaukee.

INCREASE PERSONNEL OF RAILROAD SHOPS

Kaukauna—The Chicago and North western railroad shops force has been and will be increased to between thirty-five and forty men more than were employed previous to the shop strike. A number of men were called back to work Tuesday morning. Half the force consists of boilermakers and machinists while others are helpers.

Legion Football Team Is Arranging
Stiff Competition
For This Season

Kaukauna—If the first football game of the Kaukauna American legion team does not draw a big crowd it will not be because of lack of advertising. Glaring signs have been tacked on delivery trucks and on dray wagons and are helping football fans keep the game on their minds. DePeres will oppose the local team Sunday afternoon. The battle is to begin at 2:30.

In order to create a little enthusiasm a parade will be held Friday evening. The line will start at the play grounds and will cover the city from end to end. "Barkers" and red lights will feature the parade.

H. D. McChesney, coach at Lawrence college, who officiated at last season's games, will again be referee. DePeres is said to have a strong eleven but it is generally conceded that the home aggregation will win. A week from Sunday the Washington Athletic Club of Milwaukee will be here. The management is negotiating with managers and no difficulty will be experienced in arranging games for every Sunday. Attempts are being made to bring teams which will furnish more opposition than many teams did last season.

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT STURKOW-RYDER CONCERT

BOARD ORDERS CHANGES IN SCHOOL SPECIFICATIONS

Kaukauna—A representative of the Langdon Construction Co., which is building the new high school, was present at a meeting of the board of education Monday evening in the council rooms. On his recommendation he was instructed to provide water-proofing and piping in the boiler room, ash pit, coal room and pumping room. These provisions were not a part of the contract specifications. Usual bills were allowed and the board adjourned until next Monday evening when it is expected a budget will be ready for presentation.

GAS FILLING STATION TO BE STARTED AT ONCE

Kaukauna—Nelson Contracting Co. of Kaukauna has been awarded the job of constructing a filling station for Peter Mitchell on Lawe-st on the site of the Robert Hamilton residence which has just been torn down. The building will be 20 feet square and will be constructed of concrete and bricks. The contractor expects to have the work completed in six weeks. The company is the only one which built the addition to the Holy Cross graded school.

2-YEAR PRISON SENTENCE FOR APPLETON BOYS

Quayle And Hoffman, Held At Waupaca, Sentenced
For Burglary

J. E. Quayle and William Hoffman, held in county jail at Waupaca for burglary of a garage several weeks ago, are given two year prison sentences on Wednesday by Judge Byron B. Park, Stevens Point, who tried the cases. Quayle must serve two years at Waupun and Hoffman was ordered to the reformatory at Green Bay.

Judge Park had intimated last week that the young men might be released on parole but they spoiled their chance for freedom when they attempted to break out of jail Saturday night. They had forced their way out of their cells and were trying to get out of the building when the sheriff returned to the jail and ordered them into cells.

Arthur King, convicted of burglary who also attempted jail delivery, was sent to Green Bay for four years. A third young man who was with Quayle and Hoffman in the garage burglary escaped the officers when the other two men were arrested and he has not been apprehended.

PREPARES CHART TO SHOW LOCATION OF CHAPEL SEATS

Community Artist Series Patrons Won't Buy Tickets Blindly This Year

Equal opportunity for all and exact knowledge of location in Lawrence Memorial chapel will be features of the seat sale for the community artist and lecture series on Friday, Oct. 5, through use for the first time of a chart which displays the whole floor and balcony plan at a glance.

George H. Beckley, manager of the course, made this possible through construction of a ticket racket which shows every seat in the house. This will be placed in the Y. M. C. A. lobby when the sale opens and it will be an easy matter for each patron of the course to select just the seats he wants. The tickets all will be on the rack, inserted in pockets for the seats they represent, and the purchaser will be able to determine just what has been sold and just what remains. He may reserve his seats Friday for the whole series of ten numbers.

SALES IN PAIRS

The rack is about 4 feet square and has about 750 compartments large enough to hold tickets for two seats each. The lower floor plan is as the front and center of the device, and the balcony sections border this. Numbers are placed at each compartment, corresponding to the seat numbers at the chapel, and the rows are lettered similarly. Tickets are punched for the ten numbers in their order of use, and two sets are placed in each compartment. Doubling up in this way was done because sales usually go in pairs and the rack is less cumbersome.

"People have bought tickets blindly in the past," said Mr. Beckley, "and there has been dissatisfactions and not being able to make a desirable choice. The board will be before the eyes of everybody so they can see for themselves that nobody is given any advantage. Sales will be made quickly and groups of people who wish to sit together can be accommodated in good sections."

DRAW LOTS FOR TICKETS

It is possible that the Y. M. C. A. will be opened at 7 o'clock in the morning and each person who calls will be given a number. The chart will be set up at 9 o'clock and the person holding number one will be the first man served. Sales then will be made in the order of numbers held. Mail orders also will be numbered and the seats sold alternately with personal purchases.

"We want it understood that a mail order means one that has gone through the postoffice and is addressed to my office," declared Mr. Beckley. "Orders left at the office or at the Y. M. C. A. without being mailed cannot be considered as mail orders."

Seats will be graded this year at three different prices for season according to their location. The lower floor except the extreme front seats and those under the balcony will be $5 the remainder of the downstairs, and the front rows all around the balcony will be $5; the remainder of the house, $4. These prices are for the group of ten numbers.

TAX REPORT AUDITS FOR TWO COUNTIES FINISHED

The work of editing the income tax reports of Waupaca and Outagamie counties has now been completed by John A. Lonsdorf, assessor of incomes, and the task of preparing the tax roll has begun.

The Outagamie income tax board of review will hold its postponed meeting at the courthouse on Monday, Oct. 2. The members of the board are A. H. Krugmeier, chairman, Charles Hagen and Otto Schaefer. Herman Kamps is clerk of the board.

FURS AND MYSTERY

By A. CARSTENSEN
582 Morrison St.

Most everyone knows that raw furs must be dressed and dyed before they can be rendered fit to wear. There is another process about which most people know nothing—that of plucking and unhairing.

Nearly all fur-bearers have a coat of long, coarse hairs scattered over their coat of more abundant soft hairs. This under coat is what is known as fur. While in most animals the under coat is by far the more beautiful, there are a few animals whose skins are equally beautiful when made up natural. To the latter class belong the muskrat, otter and beaver.

Skins which are to be plucked are soaked in water till the leather is softened and the pores opened, the skins are then warmed and the leather side of the pelt is shaved to cut off the root of the long hairs. Plucking is then comparatively easy.

Some other skins, principally seal, are plucked by a different process. For this purpose a machine was perfected late in the nineteenth century which makes possible the plucking of a pelt more rapidly and with better results.

It is in this process of plucking or unhairing that certain skins take their first step toward imitating more valuable furs. For instance: muskrat and coney skins are sheared till the surface is of uniform depth. After this they are either made up natural or dyed to resemble some costlier fur.

Whether sold under its own or some other name, there is a great deal of work to the preparing of furs for the adornment or comfort of their future wearers. The practical and reliable fur dealer knows and understands each operation as well as the "tricks of the trade."

WICHMANN TO MOVE IN STORE NOV. 1

Rapid Progress Is Being Made
On Other Construction
Projects

Wichmann Furniture Co. expects to be in its new building by Nov. 1. The plastering is completed and the windows are in place except the large display windows of the first floor and balcony which have not yet arrived.

Plamann & Kuchenbecker completed the brickwork Tuesday of the front of the new Valley Dairy Products Co.'s building on State St. The walls are completed and the roof will be finished by the end of the week.

W. H. Hackleman's new building will be enclosed as soon as the copper settings for the plate glass windows arrive. Work on the interior is under way.

The walls of the new Kaminsky building in the lavine on College ave. are up to the level of the pavement and rapid progress is now being made. The entire building will be occupied by the George Walsh Clothing Co. early in November.

The Facts in the Case

RECENTLY there has been some revival of the story that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) belongs to a trust, and is operated as a part of a larger organization directed by interests other than its Board of Directors.

Such stories are absolutely and unqualifiedly false.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an independent corporation owned by 27,109 individual shareholders, many of them employees.

No individual owns as much as 10 per cent of the capital stock.

The policies of the Company are formulated, and the practices directed, by a Board consisting of nine men, all actively engaged in this business, and in no other.

Robert W. Stewart, Chairman
W. M. Burton, President
W. E. Warwick, Second Vice-President
B. Parks, Third Vice-President
E. G. Seubert, Fourth Vice-Pres., Sec. & Treas.
Allan Jackson, Fifth Vice-President
R. H. McElroy, Traffic Manager
E. J. Bullock, Director of Purchases
T. J. Thompson, General Manager—Sales

These men are striving to manage the business of this Company so as to render the utmost of service to the people of the Middle West; to furnish steady employment to 26,000 men and women; and to render a fair return to the stockholders on the capital they have invested in the enterprise.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) neither owes, nor acknowledges, allegiance to any individual or other organization. It stands squarely on its own feet and says proudly that its trying to do a big job in a big way.

Borrow Baby

Mother, With Children at School,
Lonesome Without Youngster
About the House

"Will somebody please lend me a baby? My children are all at school and I'm lonesome."

That was the appeal which came to Appleton Woman's club on Monday from an Appleton woman who is lonesome during the day for a baby. Up to this year she has had children of her own in the home during the day and now that they are all in school, she finds the house big and empty.

She said that she would gladly take either boy or girl just so it was a baby. Through the employment agency of the Woman's club, this lonesome mother is trying to locate another woman in Appleton who would like to board her baby during the day. The club secretary will be able to give more information to any woman who works during the day and who would find it convenient to have someone take the child during that time.

Speeder Mails Fine To Judge At Marinette

H. E. Vincent was arrested at Marinette by Motorcycle Officer Oberg for exceeding the speed limit. He informed the officer he was in a hurry to get home and asked to be released upon his promise to mail a check for the fine. According to Justice Haase of that city he kept his word as he received a letter from him in which was inclosed a check for $15.10, the amount of his fine.

1,400 MEMBERS, $20,000 - GOALS IN 'Y' CAMPAIGN

Increase in Workers Over Other
Years Planned - End
Task in 3 Days

Fourteen hundred members and twenty thousand dollars in money are the goals set for the 1922 Y. M. C. A. membership campaign, according to George F. Werner, general secretary. One of the most vigorous of drives will be made beginning Oct. 6 and it is expected that the entire task will be accomplished in three days.

More teams will be in the color race than in campaigns of other years in order that speed of action may be obtained. Workers now are being chosen and it is expected that the organization of 215 men and boys will be complete before the end of the week.

Quotas set for the solicitors will be 350 boys, 200 limited members (with out gymnasium privileges), 650 full memberships including 9-month student cards, 100 business men and 100 sustaining members.

Dividing these quotas among 28 teams, it will mean that each of the four divisions must obtain 350 members and $5,000. Each team's allotment will be 50 members and $715.

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

You Can Sleep

Longer now, if you wish

Quaker Oats now comes in two styles, identical in quality and flavor.

Our experts have perfected Instant Quaker Oats—the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes, and it cooks to perfection.

Now your oat dish can be ready, if you wish, before the eggs or coffee.

Now two great supremacies

Now Quaker Oats in two ways excel any other oats in existence. Long ago their flavor won the world. It has made Quaker Oats the dominant brand wherever oats lovers live.

Quaker is flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel, but those ten pounds are the finest oats that people ever get.

Now comes quick cooking. Instant Quaker is flaked from the same queen grains. But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

If you want exquisite flavor you must get Quaker Oats. If you want five-minute cooking you must get them. Get either or both, as you like. But get Quaker always if you want this dish delightful.

For repairing broken walls and ceilings; for finishing off the attic or basement; for new shelves, bins, and partitions—we know Cornell is the ideal material for these and many other purposes.

You'll know it, too, when you understand what Cornell-Wood-Board is. It's clean, tough wood fibre—nothing else; saws easily; holds nails solidly. It's triple-sized to resist moisture, heat, and cold; mill-primed, ready for paint; or you'll like the popular oatmeal-finish without paint. Cornell is made to look well and serve well.

"165 Uses for Cornell-Wood-Board" is a booklet telling how you can make many useful things for the home. You can have it for the asking. Phone, write or call for it.

RED CROSS WILL KEEP UP LABORS FOR WAR VETS

Appleton Branch Is To Be Maintained Until Next June At Least

Former service men to the number of more than 300 who have claims pending with the government will be sure of the most expert assistance in pushing them to conclusion if Red Cross branches in various parts of Outagamie-co back up the plan proposed by the newly formed Appleton branch of the Outagamie Red Cross chapter at its first meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms Tuesday afternoon.

Appleton branch will see the men through, especially the disabled men or those who are ill, for as long as assistance is necessary. The branch voted to take over and maintain the administrative office for the county in Appleton, keep Miss Ann Helm in its employ at least until June 1, 1923 in her work of executing claims and give whatever assistance is necessary.

STICKS WITH VETERANS

Voting on a choice between confining its activities to the war veterans' needs or taking up the peace-time social work program the branch decided the work on behalf of the soldiers and sailors is too urgent to let anything hinder its rapid prosecution until the task is finished.

Finance is the problem which the branch must solve. The Appleton branch's contributions have made it possible to carry on the work for the whole county for some time in the past, but the treasury is depleted. Most of the other branches in the county have balances for which there is no present need, it was pointed out, and these groups will be approached for needed help.

A committee of five is to be appointed to visit each Red Cross branch personally to point out the situation. Stephen Balliet is chairman of the committee.

Those who attended the meeting are Stephen Balliet, branch chairman, T. A. Gallagher, Joseph Marston, E. L. Madison, James Balliet, Hugh G. Corbett, Mrs. Gustave Keller, Mrs. L. J. Marshall, Mrs. A. L. McMillan, and Miss Ann Helm. Six of these are members of the board of directors of the county chapter.

DADDY'S EYES DIMMED

He was less than four years old and when I first saw him he had hold of his daddy's hand. While passing Brettschneider's furniture store he faced a toy automobile in the entrance and made for it at once. His face was radiant with joy as he rode about on the sidewalk and called to his daddy to look! look!

When it was time to go he protested and wanted to take the automobile with him.

The next time I saw him he was heartbroken. His daddy was sitting on the stone steps on the east side of the former Commercial bank with him in his lap and with dimmed eyes was wiping away the tears of his little boy, who was endeavoring to smother his sobs.

R. M. B.

HE WOKE UP LATER

I saw a flaming hot box on a coal car of the Northwestern train between the Northwestern depot and the Junction. Planes were crawling up the side of the wooden car and a dense smoke was pouring out. A railroad employee was asleep in the caboose, entirely oblivious of the danger.

M. A. S.

A MEAN TRICK

I saw a woman 80 years old with a stick in each hand trying to chase a hickory nutting group out of a field. One of the men somewhat away from the rest of the party spoke to the woman sympathetically, saying, "Who are those people down there? A woman like you ought not to be out here like this. Get into my car and I will take you up to the house."

The woman complied and the remainder of the party picked a nice supply of hickory nuts by the time he returned to get them.

Your communications to "I SPIED TODAY" should be in the office of the Post-Crescent not later than 11 o'clock on day of publication. Address or telephone them to "I Spied Today" Editor.

A FOOL AGAIN

I saw a man in a cigar store today who was showing his companions a scar on his finger that he had received years ago by sticking his finger into a cigar clipper. "Like a fool that I was," he said "I was playing with the device, jabbing my finger at the automatic clip—just like this." At this point the man actually stuck his finger into the clipper again, and when he pulled it out, it was bleeding.

SUCH A JOLT

I saw something today that made me resolve to have my eyes retested. Coming from a section where girls in knickerbockers and breeches are still a sensation, and not being one of those who turn up their noses at the young things who insist on dressing comfortably, I desire not to cause them any embarrassment by staring at them. Seeing one of those boyishly clothed women struggling to push a baby carriage up a hill, I tipped my hat and offered the lady my assistance. "Ye conscience!" It was a man!

L. M.

SHOULD WEAR BUTTONS

I saw a man stop at College-ave. and Oneida-st. stoop and tie his shoe string. He turned south in the direction of the Y M C A. and after walking ten feet he stooped again and laced his shoe. "Would you believe it that before he reached the library that shoe string of his came loose again and he stopped to tie it. I was going to walk away from the corner when to my surprise this man placed his foot on the railing in front of the Y M C A. and I saw him fix his shoe string once more. He finally turned the corner. I sincerely hope that this man didn't have far to go. Don't you?"

MATTER OF ATTITUDE

Two college girls were crossing College-ave. near the armory Tuesday afternoon. One was dressed in a heavy suit, furs pulled tightly around her neck, and huddled up as though the temperature was near zero. Her companion was dressed in the shrewdest fashion with arms and neck exposed. She seemed to be most comfortable.

PENSION FUND GETS $1,154 OUT OF DOG LICENSES

Damage Claims For 18 Months In County Aggregate Only $416

Appleton's share of the refund from the county income of dog licenses is $1,154 this year, according to the annual report of Herman J. Kampas, county clerk. The total amount of refunds for all cities, villages and towns is $8,692.66 of the $10,528 collected.

The state's share of 15 per cent of the income is $1,510.95. Only $416.60 was awarded on damage claims for the year and a half of July 1, 1920 to Dec. 31, 1921, as extended by law. The total for all expenses, such as postage, licenses and tags, assessors and administrative expenses was $1,751.83. A refund of $1,427 was received from the state, leaving only a net amount of $33.51 for state administration.

Amounts refunded to cities will be placed into the policemen's pension fund. Following is the apportionment to the other cities, villages and towns.

Kaukauna, $345.10 New London $65.22 Seymour, $117.23 Black Creek $43.75 Hortonville $127.24 Bear Creek, $36.32 Kimberly, $85.86 Little Chute, $108.25 Shiocton, $75.12 Town Black Creek, $409.99 Bovina, $204.83 Buchanan, $345.09 Center $559.84 Cicero, $388.03 Dale, $355.92 Deer Creek, $282.44 Ellington $375.64 Freedom, $533.39 Grand Chute $500.41 Greenville, $335 Hortonville $137.12 Kaukauna $199.89 Liberty $221.36 Maine $265.94 Maple Creek $250.98 Oneida $355.80 Osborn, $208.87 Seymour, $394.68 Vandenberg, $184.21.

STATE G. O. P. MEETING IS POSTPONED AGAIN

The meeting at Madison of the Wisconsin state Republican central committee has been postponed a second time, according to information received by Fred Bachman, member of the committee, from Robert M. La Follette Jr. state chairman.

The committee will meet at 10:30 Wednesday morning, Oct. 4, instead of Tuesday, Oct. 3, as previously announced. The second postponement was made to allow the members from distant points additional time to arrive. This date is definite Mr. La Follette said, no further change will be made.

CHURCH AND PASTOR HAVE ANNIVERSARY

First English Lutheran Church Dedicated Five Years Ago

Special services will be held in Trinity English Lutheran church, Harris-st., next Sunday to celebrate the fifth anniversary of dedication of the church and fifth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. F. L. Schreckenberg. The Rev. John F. Siebert, D. D., Chicago, superintendent of central district of missions of the United Lutheran church in America, will preach at the morning service at 10:30. The Rev. Paul R. Siebert, Milwaukee, will be the speaker at the evening service at 7:45. Special music will be furnished at both services.

The first service for the congregation was held Dec. 13, 1914, and nearly two years later the present church property was purchased. Ground was broken for a temporary chapel Dec. 2, 1916, and in April, 1917, the cornerstone of the present building was dedicated. The structure was consecrated on Aug. 12, 1917.

The Rev. Mr. Schreckenberg took charge of the congregation on Nov. 9, 1917. An invitation has been extended to all members and friends of the congregation to attend the services. A reception and get-together social will be held in the church basement after the evening service.

Ancient Sewer Is Found In Ravine By Builders

In excavating for the foundation of the new Kaminsky building in the ravine on the south side of College-ave., the contractors had considerable trouble in diverting the discharge of an old wooden sewer which filled the trenches about as fast as they were dug.

It required some time to locate the source of trouble and when it was found no one appeared to know anything about its history. Early settlers had no idea of its size material used or the year it was put in.

Delving through the old records in the vault of the clerk's office in the city hall, O. F. Weisgerber, city engineer, discovered it was built 49 years ago and is less than 200 feet in length. It started a short distance west of Superior-st. and emptied into the ravine.

The plans and specifications were prepared by John Stevens, city engineer at that time and called for a sewer two feet square constructed of 3-inch pine plank spiked together with three pounds of spikes in each 16 feet. The sewer was to be six feet below the surface.

In caring for the discharge, the end of the sewer was cut off even with the curbing and 6-inch tile was used to conduct it into the ravine where connections were eventually to be made with the trunk sewer. The plank are well preserved.

HOLMES GIVES CHARTER TO JANESVILLE LIONS

Representatives of 14 Wisconsin Lions clubs were guests of the Janesville Lions at the presentation of its charter, Tuesday evening. The charter was presented by Dr. J. A. Holmes, district governor of the Lions clubs of Wisconsin after his address on Americanism.

A large delegation from Milwaukee was in attendance, including the Lions quartet which gave several musical numbers.

Mrs. John Hems, 776 North Division st., is confined to St. Elizabeth hospital following a serious operation. Her condition is reported as favorable.

MANY ISLANDERS FLOCK TO HOME OF MIRACLE HEALER

Woman Healer of San Lorenzo Gives Sick and Lame "Magnetized" Water

By Associated Press. San Juan, P. R.,—Extra policemen have been detailed for duty at San Lorenzo to help handle the crowds drawn there from Wednesday night to late Friday each week by the stories of apparent cures by Julia Vazquez, the "healer of San Lorenzo."

Hundreds, if not thousands, of automobiles carrying the sick, lame, and curious have been visiting San Lorenzo and so great have been the traffic jams that there have been complaints to the police that the San Lorenzo road was impassable. On Thursday last there was a line of motors two miles long on each side of the roadway waiting for people who are rapidly wearing into a broad trail the cow path that lead up the steep hills to the spring from which the supposedly healing waters come.

Thousands go by motor to the "healer" and more thousands on foot. From Caguas and other nearby towns there has sprung up a regular motor service to and from the place of "miracles." People go by truck loads. They go in carriages, carts and some are carried Stories of "miracles" are spread with wonderful rapidity through the crowds each day, and there are reports of people coming from Santo Domingo or the Virgin Islands to get the waters blessed by the "healer." Some make a fiesta of it, others are almost reverent.

WATER IS HEALING

The healing spring is about a mile from the town where the "healer" lives. Near the spring a palm covered pavilion sheltering 400 to 500 people has been erected. There Thursdays and Fridays the healer sits in a chair on a raised platform and receives the sick. Waters from the springs lack healing qualities until she has blessed or magnetized them. After being blessed the water is carried away in bottles, buckets, oil cans, anything. And each person the "healer" sees is told to bathe, rub the afflicted portion of the body with the water, or drink so much of it at certain times.

Frequently the "healer" is aroused from her trances with great difficulty. Her father and a brother assist her. Her "power" is supposed to have been passed on to her, while the spring waters for many years have been reputed to have healing qualities. It was about two months ago that the "healer" first attracted attention. Since then her fame has spread throughout the island.

BRIDGE PROBLEMS WILL BE DISCUSSED THURSDAY

The board of public works will hold a meeting in the city hall at 7:30 Thursday evening which members of the common council and manufacturers located between Lawe and Lake stas. are invited to attend. The purpose of the meeting is to get the cooperation of the manufacturers in the settlement of certain street and bridge matters that have been pending before the council for some time.

FOURTH WARDERS HAVE LONG WAYS TO JUNIOR HIGH

Hard To Locate East End Junior
School Advantageously
To South Side

As the time and the money that has been spent in the development of the park, all of which would be for naught, they said, if it were turned into school grounds. The park could henceforth not be used for school playground purposes, because the trees would interfere and it would be a sacrifice to cut down the trees.

It was said. If the park were once turned over for school use, it would become property of the high school district and the city would have no jurisdiction over the property as a park, it was pointed out.

WOULD LOSE INTIMACY
One resident favored the use of the present high school for a junior high school and the erection of a new high school. This plan was also considered by the survey committee, but rejected. The committee felt that a single centrally located junior high school would soon become so large, at least 1000 in a few years, that an important part of the junior high school organization, its "intimacy," would be lost.

"One way to eliminate a great part of the distance that Fourth ward students would be required to walk," said P. B. Younger, principal of the fourth district school, "would be to add another grade to the Fourth ward school and make of it a junior high school. This plan had been proposed to the committee but the committee saw fit not to recommend it."

The committee's expression on this matter was that the Fourth ward school was not properly equipped for use as a junior high school. Remodeling of the school would be necessary and this expense would be between $5,000 and $8,000. Yet even if these changes were made, they would be a makeshift.

"The school would be lacking in proper facilities for physical education," it was maintained. "The present auditorium used as such and being unfinished, the rooms would be distributed in a manner which would make administrative work difficult. A class unit would be lacking and educational efficiency would suffer."

WHAT IS REASONABLE
If the original program is carried out, and pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades of the Fourth ward will be required to tramp to the nearest junior high school across the river, the question that will interest many is: What distance is it reasonable to expect children to walk?

The answer of the survey committee was one and a half miles. A circle of one mile radius drawn around the proposed site of the west end junior high school will take care of the situation in that section of the city easily. A circle of one mile radius drawn around the proposed site for the east end school on Second-ave. would reach as far as the river. A circle for the one and a half mile radius would take in that part of the Fourth ward that lies south of Lincoln-st.

The committee therefore recommended that all junior high school students beyond the one and a half mile zone in the Fourth ward, which would be about one-half of all the junior high school students of this ward, be transported to one of the two schools across the river. Children living on Calumet-st. would have a distance of more than two miles to a school on Second-ave.

If a junior high school had opened this fall, the Fourth ward school would have supplied more than 50 pupils. This enrollment, together with the graduates and seventh and eighth grade pupils of parochial schools that would be available, the number of Fourth ward junior high school students would have been raised to about 100. The total enrollment at each of the junior high schools will be about 200, according to the survey committee.

STATE IS WATCHING RELIGIOUS DAY SCHOOL PROGRESS HERE

Children of Appleton public schools are eager to get back into the classes of the community religious day school which opens Oct. 2. Those pictured above are especially eager, because they expect to capture new honors.

This group shows the children of a last season class who had perfect records for attendance and high standing in their work. Prizes which they won are clutched tightly in their hands. Prof. E. E. Emme, religious instructor at Lawrence college, again is community director and will supervise the school and its teaching in cooperation with Appleton community religious council. His picture is reproduced by courtesy of the council's publicity committee.

Questions usually asked by parents concerning the school are answered in circulars distributed to all pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the public schools this week. Large numbers of the enrollment cards are being returned, signed by the parents permitting the children to enter the classes corresponding to their day school grade.

PICK PLACES LATER
Buildings at which the classes are to be held will be chosen later, depending on the enrollment. Those who did not receive cards at school may enroll without them. If the parents give their consent to attendance at the school, one hour a week will be granted the children by all of the public schools in which to attend the religious school. The same compulsion as to attendance and punctuality will be carried out as in the grade schools, with reports of this character and as to lesson standing submitted to the principals.

Only where parents indicate a church belonging to the community religious council will the place of holding classes and nature of the lessons be decided by the council. In all other cases, especially where Lutheran or Catholic churches are specified, the enrollment cards will be turned over to the respective pastors and training can be arranged during the same hours.

These churches are in the community council: Baptist, Congregational, All Saints Episcopal, Emanuel Evangelical, German Methodist, First Methodist, Presbyterian and Reformed.

FOLLOW APPLETON LEAD
More interest than ever in Appleton's idea is being created over the state. Recent statewide publicity given the community activities here has resulted in a flood of inquiries to Prof. Emme. About a dozen cities are following the city's example this year by opening religious day schools.

Each cooperating church now has two members elected to the community religious council as follows: Congregational, R. E. Carncross, F. J. Harwood; Presbyterian, Mrs. Mary Wells, W. S. Smith; Episcopal, Charles Baker, Henry Babcock; German Methodist, J. A. Merkle, Mrs. C. A. Wagner; Methodist, Judson G. Rosebush, W. E. Smith; Baptist, Herman Sanborn, Miss Merle Culbertson; Evangelical, Louis Wurl, E. J. Sorenson.

A budget of $1,620 has been adopted for the year by the council and it is apportioned among churches according to size, with this division: Congregational, $650; First Methodist, $500; Presbyterian, $180; Evangelical, $94; Baptist, $72; Episcopal, $64; German Methodist, $20; First English Lutheran, $20; Reformed, $20.

NAME COMMITTEE
Six standing committees were elected at a recent meeting of the council to handle details of school administration. They are: Committee on teachers—Ben J. Rohan, Dr. J. A. Holmes, R. E. Carncross, W. S. Ford, Mrs. Roy Marston. Buildings and equipment—The Rev. P. O. Keicher, the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt, W. S. Smith. Curriculum and materials—The Rev. C. Willard Cross, Mrs. C. A. Wagner, Prof. H. C. Cooley, Mrs. A. L. McMillan, the Rev. E. W. Wright. Publicity—George F. Werner, W. E. Smith, Dr. H. E. Peabody. Constitution—The Rev. A. L. McMillan, the Rev. P. O. Keicher, the Rev. C. Willard Cross, W. E. Smith. Nominating—The Revs. P. O. Keicher, E. W. Wright and A. L. McMillan and F. J. Harwood.

$300 IN PREMIUMS TO BE AWARDED AT C. OF C. CORN SHOW

Best Exhibit In Display Here
Next February to Bring
$35 in Cash

Farmers who are good judges of corn will be able to obtain some liberal prize money in the contest which the chamber of commerce is arranging to hold here in February. The plans outlined by the rural affairs committee at a meeting Monday afternoon provide for a prize of $35 for the best 10 ears of Golden Glow yellow dent corn.

Prizes to be given in the contest will total approximately $300, and will be higher than in any previous exhibit here. There will be more than 50 prizes, with about a dozen in cash and 40 or 50 in merchandise.

Tentative premium lists probably will be issued soon to inform the farmers of the contest so they will select their best ears when husking. Entries will include flint, Golden Bantam, Evergreen, Golden Glow, Silver King, White Dent and others, and quantities of silage.

It is possible that the corn show will be held in connection with the annual poultry exhibits here. Entertainment features will be provided, with perhaps a free moving picture show at one of the theaters.

DANES CUT WAGES BUT BUSINESS IS GETTING BETTER

Less Idleness in Denmark In Spite of Reduction in Government Forces

By Associated Press
Washington—Business conditions in Denmark are showing distinct signs of improvement and the expenses of government have been materially reduced, according to a statement given out here by the Danish legation.

By mutual agreement between employers and workers wages have been reduced about 15 per cent. and Danish manufacturers again are competing with Germany. There are today but 39,000 unemployed in Denmark, as against 100,000 a year ago.

The shipping situation is better than it has been since the bottom fell out of the market. The idle tonnage in Denmark is decreasing week by week. According to the Danish Shipowners' Association the number of ships laid up today is only 14, with a total tonnage of 38,413. In January 95 Danish ships with a total tonnage of 258,300 were idle.

At the same time government expenses are being reduced. During and after the war the salaries of all government employees were raised as the cost of living increased. Now they are going down and the reductions already total $10,000 a year.

LONDON OPEN TO SEVERE ATTACKS FROM AIRCRAFTS

Figures Show That Metropolis
Could Be Laid in Ruins
Within 24 Hours

London—Britain is declared again to be in dire peril. She is described as in a dangerous state of unpreparedness against air attack. Experts contend that London could be laid in ruins from the air within 24 hours. Many facts and figures are given by various newspapers to prove it.

Britons, and Londoners especially, are told they should be so badly scared they wouldn't sleep soundly in their beds again until something was done to set matters right. But the stolid Britisher refuses to be scared for anybody or anything. He rejoices that it has temporarily stopped raining and that the last two days of the Ascot racing were gloriously fine.

But there may be serious trouble brewing for the government over the state of the country's air defenses. Major General Seely started the trouble—as trouble is often started here by asking a question in Parliament as to how the country was fixed for airplanes in case of war.

The reply of Captain Guest, the aid minister, was not exactly calculated to make nervous people feel comfortable. He said that while the country in 1920 had 186 civil airplanes fit for war, it now had only 83 and these were of 28 different types. This year there are only 18 machines actually flying in regular service.

The Air League of the British Empire, which aims to do or the Air Force what the Navy League does for the Navy, saw in the turn affairs had taken a chance to do some effective propaganda work and issued a statement of which this is the gist.

The total strength of the Royal Air Force in these islands is 12 squadrons, of which a percentage are skeleton formations.

No provision has been made to ensure that civil machines and personnel shall take part in the aerial defense of the country in case of war. France has at present 126 squadrons of airplanes and will have 220 squadrons by the end of this year.

Behind this force she has at present several hundred civil machines earmarked for use in case of war. The French aircraft industry is turning out 150 machines per month.

ELECT BACHMAN AS CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY G. O. P.

Candidates And Committeemen
Organize But Campaign
Policy Is Deferred

Fred Bachman, city treasurer, was elected chairman of the Republican central committee of Outagamie-co. at a meeting of candidates and committeemen in the courthouse Tuesday evening. He succeeds in his capacity Attorney A. H. Krugmeier. Mr. Bachman has taken a leading part in the county in the interests of the LaFollette-Blaine Republican ticket. He is president of the Appleton Trades and Labor council, president of the Outagamie-co. Farmer-Labor and Progressive league, and was recently appointed a member of the state Republican central committee.

The other officers elected are Attorney Fred V. Heinemann, secretary, and R. C. Breitung, treasurer. Mr. Heinemann also is secretary of the farmer-labor league which, it is believed, was a powerful factor in securing the large majority of votes in this county for George J. Schneider, candidate for congressman, in spite of Senator LaFollette's support of Elmer S. Hall.

NO DEFINITE PROGRAM
No definite program of action was agreed upon at Tuesday's meeting as it was decided to wait until the last day for filing of nomination papers by independent candidates. Thus far there are only two independent candidates in the field in the county, namely, L. Hugo Keller, candidate for district attorney, and John E. Hantschel, candidate for clerk.

A large number of the county precincts were not represented at the meeting Tuesday evening, as only few committeemen had been voted for in the primaries. The committee in some cases nominated several men for the vacant precincts allowing the voters to choose their own chairman.

Following is a list of committeemen endorsed by the county meeting: Julius Endlich and F. D. Zocholl, Town Black Creek; E. F. Spoehr, Bovina; Vincent Foster, Buchanan; John Schwammer, Center; Emil Mueller, Cicero; Milford Bottrell, Dale; A. M. McCrone, Deer Creek; W. J. Laird, Elington; John Garvey, Freedom; George Erickberg and Fred Harrison, Grand Chute; H. M. Culbertson, Greenville; E. W. Lyons, Horton; James Farrell, Town Kaukauna; Chester Doughty, or John Savall, Liberty; Star Poole, J. Sayers, Maize; Arnold Krueger, Maple Creek; Charles Appleton, Oneida; Charles Sievert, Henry Schultz, Osborn, Anton Mueller, Town Seymour; John Dedrick, Charles W. Schimpf and V. Viana, Vandenberg. The committeemen of cities and villages are Philip Greason, First ward; William Eggert, Second ward; W. F. Otto, Third ward; John Reutter, Fourth ward; George Linzer and J. E. Boland, Fifth ward; William Schultz, Frank Schwandt and H. Fiedler, Sixth ward; Appleton: Isaac Thorn, Bear Creek; George Kitchen and F. Brandt, Black Creek village; D. J. Ryan, Combined Locks; Douglas Hodgins, Hortonville; Edward Grebe, First ward; John C. Mitchell, Second ward; Joseph Dietzler, Third ward; H. Welfenbach and William Klumb, Fourth ward; Fred Reichel, Fifth ward; Kaukauna: Joseph Doerflinger, Kimberly; Anton Jansen, Little Chute; Henry Fuerst, New London; William Beck, P. J. Graham, and George Fiedler, First ward; L. Boyden, Second ward; Seymour; Howard Palmer, Shiocton.

DEATHS

GAYHART FUNERAL

Funeral services for Elizabeth Gayhart, 68, who died Monday afternoon will be held at 3:30 Thursday morning from St. Joseph church. She is survived by ten children, and her husband has been dead 22 years instead of 33 years. Children surviving are Michael Gayhart, Mrs. William Aderman, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Mike Spielbauer, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Frank Merritt, Misses Laura and Hattie Gayhart.

JAMES F. McIVER

James F. McIVER, 70, resident of Outagamie-co. for many years, died at his home, 725 1/2 Forty-fifth-st., Milwaukee. The body was to arrive in Appleton at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to be taken to the home of Arnold Withlin, 825 North Division-st. Funeral services will be held at 5:30 Thursday morning from St. Mary church with burial in St. Mary cemetery.

Mr. McIVER was a pioneer resident of this county. He was born at Staten Island, N. Y., in 1852 and came to Wisconsin with his parents three years later, settling in Ellington where he lived for many years. Later he resided in Appleton, Kimberly and Milwaukee.

Survivors include the widow, six children, Ralph, Mildred and Elmer, one of Milwaukee, Frank of Cleveland, Mrs. A. D. Blanton of Chicago, Stella of Neenah, one brother, Andrew of Ironwood, Mich., three sisters, Mrs. Arnold Withlin of Appleton, Mrs. John Haffner of Antigo and Mrs. David McKee of Ironwood.

Mr. McIVER was a member of Branch No. 6, Catholic Knights of Wisconsin, for 37 years.

of autumn flowers fell in the path of marchers. The Wisconsin veteran drum corps, including men who fought with the old Iron brigade, led the Wisconsin department, swelled in numbers by the eagerness of its veterans to take back home with the the general order granting next year's encampment to Milwaukee. HARDING LOSING GROUND IN OHIO nanon he opines that the present republican majority in the house of 167 will be cut down to 50.

The wet and dry issue will be here in a new form. A referendum on an amendment to the state constitution permitting light wines and beer will be voted on Nov. 7.

Again in Cleveland as in western New York, the writer discovers the public mind disturbed about industrial issues. The headquarters of the railroad brotherhoods are here. This is a union stronghold. Nothing has created quite the sensation however as the preaching of Newton D. Baker on the subject. Coming back to the city over which he was mayor for four years, he turned to the practice of law. The townsfolk made him president of the Chamber of Commerce. He is esteemed by Republicans and Democrats alike—they all have a good word to say for the former secretary of war but when he wrote his so-called open shop letter, he went up even higher in the opinion of the professional and business men and one might say even in the view of many trade unionists who are out of sympathy with the radical fringe of their movement. Naturally there was a howl from labor quarters at this doctrine. Newton Baker has always been known as a progressive Democrat. He is chairman of the Democratic county committee. He heard more than murmurs from the politicians. He said he had expressed his own view—he wasn't committing the party to anything but it is noteworthy that Mr. Baker continues in control of the county organization here just the same.

MANITOWOC AND SHEBOYGAN BEGIN SERIES SUNDAY

Lawrence Men Get Test In Scrimmage Against Bay Packer Grid Team

Basing Dashes Full Length of Field For Touchdown—Blue and White Does Well in Line Plunging But Poor in Passing

All entrances to the Lawrence athletic field were guarded at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and admission was barred to all "outsiders" as the Blue and White pickin' chasers were put through as big a test as ever required of a college eleven in their practice work.

As a surprise not only to the followers but to the candidates themselves, the Lawrence men were sent through for nearly two hours of scrimmage with the Green Bay Packers.

Barring visitors was decided upon because Coach McChesney and the others in charge felt that with the announcement of the Green Bay men were to scrimmage with Appleton the followers of the college eleven would tend to crowd the field and sidelines and interfere with the scrimmage.

SHOWED UP BOTH SIDES The result of the scrimmage with the strong Packer team proved beneficial to the college men and that they showed many good points of play. While the scrimmage showed many good points of play, it also showed some very poor ones. On the basis of the practice Coach McChesney and his assistant Coach Cub Buck will drill the men for the remainder of the week and expect to polish off the most of the rough edges before the game with Stevens Point normal.

Just Ben Roderick warming up for this year's grid season with Columbia whose forces he's just joined. He's a former Boston college star.

GIANTS WHIP CARDS IN LAST OF SERIES

Champs Made It Three Out Of Four From St. Louis By 6 To 3

New York—The New York Nationals made it three out of four from St. Louis winning the last game of the series on Tuesday by a score of 6 to 3. Neph was hit hard at times, but settled down in the closing innings. Groh and Cunningham both hit home runs within the grounds.

Philadelphia—Cincinnati pounded three Philadelphia pitchers for 23 hits and won the last game of the home National league season 15 to 2. The victory sent the Reds into third place, St. Louis being defeated by New York.

LAUERMANN TWINS OPEN GRID SCHEDULE SUNDAY

Marquette—Professional football in Marquette and Menominee will open Sunday. One of the Lauermann twins clash with the Manitowoc city aggregation at the Marquette athletic field. The twins are primed for the game and are confident of finding the Shipbuilders an easy contender for first laurels.

Menominee and Marquette last year were two of the most prominent football cities in upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin due to the creditable showing made by the twins in their first year of professional football.

Among the twin players this year are Kuchenberg, former captain of Marquette university, Neman old Michigan and all conference man. Christensen of Zuppke's great 1916 team. Powers who played a tackle position with Green Bay last year and other fast gridiron performers.

CUBS LEADING IN GRADE SCHOOL BASEBALL WHEEL

The Cubs are in the lead in the Lincoln School baseball league with a score of .600 and the Tigers and Yankees are tied with scores of .400 each. The league is made up of four teams, seventh and eighth grade boys who play a regular weekly schedule during the morning and afternoon recess periods. The league is now in its second week and the games are becoming more skilled. The contest will continue to play for six weeks.

The standing of the teams is

Cubs	.600
Tigers	.400
Yankees	.400
Giants	.200

CHAMPIONSHIP OF STATE BALL TO BE KNOWN IN 3 GAMES

Toss Of Coin Gives Chair City Curtain Raiser Of "Little World Series"

Manitowoc and Sheboygan will begin their "little world series" for the baseball championship of the state Sunday with a game at Sheboygan.

Three games will decide the series, according to a long distance talk with Manager Herzog Wednesday morning. It was also voted that both clubs have the same lineup that was used throughout the entire season.

PLAY 3 GAMES The series doesn't only mean the deciding which of the two clubs can play a better brand of ball, but it may mean the beginning of the fusing of the two leagues for the season of 1923.

CZAR OBJECTS FIRST Although John F. Kluwin, czar of the Valley league was set against the playing of the series at the beginning he gave his consent a week ago following extreme pressure brought by the Sheboygan club. It is understood Manitowoc and Sheboygan are rivals of many years in their various encounters in the Lake Shore league and the pilots knew that a series between the two towns would fill the ball park to the capacity. In addition the demand of the fans for a series had been felt ever since both towns copped the rags in their respective leagues.

MEELER TO PITCH Manitowoc will use "Red" Melzer to pitch the game while Trentman will be the catcher. The Chair City bats will be "Buster" Braun and Kolbert.

Want Pigskin Hard? This Is How To Do It

Catch on to this, youngsters who cannot afford a football pump and you will have it all over the college managers who labor daily over inflating the pigskin.

If you want to get the ball good and hard ask some man with an auto if you can use his spare tire for a few moments. Put the bladder nipple over the valve stem, take a match and press down the valve through the rubber and stop pressing before you wreck the ball.

This simple and efficient method of getting the ball to the proper pressure may in time put the pump makers out of business.

FIFTY FREE BUILDING PLANS

Successful building depends largely upon the plan you choose. The quality of the material and labor must be considered that a house may have an attractive exterior and pleasant interior, but unless the plans are correct in every detail, success in this line is not possible.

This Bureau has for free distribution a booklet showing the types of houses which are architecturally correct, and which with minor alterations can be adapted to any section of the country.

The houses shown in this booklet are all originals, not copies. Any reader can secure a copy by filling out and mailing the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

CAN'T DECEIVE ILLITERATE RUSS PEASANT FOLKS

Natural Shrewdness and Intelligence Stands Them in Good Stead

By Associated Press KAZAN—The Russian peasant, upon intimate contact, has been found to be not so illiterate or so stupid as it has been the habit to represent him. While he may not always be able to read, he possesses a natural shrewdness and intelligence which stand him in good stead.

A practical common sense is often a good substitute for book learning.

American Relief Administration workers have had much to do with the Russian peasant in their various activities in these lands, and have come to regard him with respect.

"How is it," one of the Russian interpreters was asked, "that although these peasants cannot read and write they seem to be able to make accurate computations and to master the intricacies of the Russian currency?"

They seem to understand perfectly even the new bank notes in which those marked 100 rubles equal those put out last year which were worth 1,000,000.

"They appreciate the value of stupidity," was the answer. "They like to appear simple, more simple than they are. It is partly a pose with them, but it has its practical side, too. They appear guileless and manage to drive a good bargain because their very guilelessness allays the suspicion of the person with whom they are dealing."

"I hand them a 1,000,000 ruble note. 'What is this,' they ask. 'I tell them that it is a million. They accept it. But try handing them a 100,000 ruble note and say that it is a million. They will shake their heads. You may point out that it has many ciphers following the figures. They will not accept it. 'But,' you persist, 'you can't read, why do you think I am lying to you?' 'But I have never seen that sort of a million before' they answer and they will take it."

"You take a paper to a peasant to be signed. He looks at it and asks what it is all about. You read it to him. He nods but protests that he cannot write. 'Let someone else write my name on it,' he says and later he may repudiate the agreement, saying that he never signed it and did not even know what it contained."

CLABBY AND ALLEN SIGN FOR OSHKOSH BOXING PROGRAM

Thirty Rounds of Boxing For Fans On Opening October 6

Oshkosh—What is without a doubt the best boxing program that has been presented to the Fox River valley fans in many a moon has just been completed by The Oshkosh Athletic association for the opening boxing show of the season here on Friday, Oct. 6.

After considerable dickering the local club has secured the signed articles of Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., considered as one of the leading contenders for the middle weight title. Clabby will meet Red Allen, New York, a rough and ready middleweight who has been going great guns in the east where he has fought practically the best boys in his division.

Clabby and Allen will box 10 rounds in the windup at 155 pounds. Clabby has just returned from a successful invasion of Australia where he won the middleweight and lightweight championship of Australia. On labor day at Michigan City he demonstrated that he is without a doubt a strong contender for the title when he defeated Jimmy Darcy. In Allen he is meeting a topnotcher who has fought and held his own with such men as Mike O'Dowd, Mike Gibbons, Soldier Bartfield and world's champion Johnny Wilson.

ROD AND REEL By Dixie Carroll

HAIR FLY There is quite an argument among the knights of the rod and fishing reel as to who really took the sequence when anything starts on the road to popularity. Not wishing to join the works out, as to who did it, I quote the following from "The Art of Angling," by R. Brooks M. D., published in London back in 1760. "To make useful artificial flies, you turn yourself with a Pocket Case capable of holding the following materials: Bear's Hair of divers Colors, as gray, dun, light and dark colored, bright brown and that which shines also Camel's Hair, dark, light and of a color between both, Badgers hair, or Fur Spaniel's hair, from behind the ear, light and dark brown blackish and black, Hog's Down, which can be had, about Christmas, of Butchers, or rather of those that make Brawn, it should be plucked from under the throat and other soft places of the hog, black, red, whitish and sandy Cow's red calves' hair in all the different shades from the lightest to the darkest brown, both of which are harsh, and will never work kindly, nor be handsomely. Flies made of the hairs of bears, hogs, squirrel's tail, camels, dogs, foxes badgers otters ferrets, cows, calves' skins etc. are more natural lively and keep color better in the water than flies made of crevils and worsted stuffs, unless you mingle hair therewith."

Which goes to show that the hair fly is not a spring chicken and that Old Doc Brooks, peace to his ashes, knew a bit about the hair fly way back in the early stages of the game. Although "Doc" gave his fishing friends the info on the hair fly, they probably never tied a fly in those days that had the lively crawl and movement of the present time hair flies, nor were they tied as skillfully as those of today.

CONQUERS CHAMP

Batling Siki, Senegalese fighter, after having knocked out Georges Carpenter Europe's state champ, in the sixth round of a Paris bout now say he'd like to meet Jack Dempsey

FONDY FORCED TO QUIT DRILL; LACKS MATERIAL

Fond du Lac—Football enthusiasm at the high school may be in evidence in student circles, but just at the present time Coach Fruth is having his troubles in lining up enough players to provide two teams.

To be exact there are just 26 players out to make the team this fall. This is not sufficient to use up the uniforms available, there being enough suits for three full teams.

The other evening football practice had to be abandoned when several of the candidates were obliged to leave the field for personal reasons, not enough remaining to make two teams.

GRED K. O.'S BENEDICT WANTS TO MEET SIKI

Toronto — Harry Greb, American light heavyweight champion knocked out Al Benedict of New York in the second round and declared he would meet Batling Siki, conqueror of Georges Carpenter, any time any where, for any reasonable amount of money.

BADGER TEAM HAS STRONG BACKFIELD

Conference Aspirations Bright—Open With Carlton College Oct. 7

Madison—Two weeks' training has rounded out a formidable aggregation of football players from which Coach John R. Richards will build the 1923 Wisconsin eleven before the first contest with Carlton college here Oct. 7.

The Badgers have a backfield that is going to carry their team a long way toward a conference championship this year, sport followers believe. Bolstered by "Shorty" Barr of Milwaukee, at quarterback, and speeded up by the presence of Captain "Rollie" Williams of Edgerton at halfback, the material looks as though it would afford a chance for developing other stars of equal ability before the season is ended. Harris of Racine at fullback, Taft of Whitewater at fullback and Gibson of Ft. Dodge at halfback are all men of exceptional playing ability.

Some difficulty is to be encountered in developing a line of strength. Nichols of Milwaukee and Ben Pearce of Milwaukee are being used alternatively to plug the hole left by George Bunge, center for three years. Hohl of Madison and Christiansen of Deafield are being used regularly at guard. Both men are experienced with a season of conference competition behind them.

Below of Oshkosh and Murray of El-deron are holding down the tackle positions with credit. Neither has had experience with the varsity, but both are developing into strong players. The end positions are going to be well taken care of judging by available material. Gus Tebell of Aurora, Ill., in his third year of varsity play is holding one position as the star of the line, while Polaski and Irish of Madison are alternating at the other wing position.

Difficulty is encountered in locating a man who can take the place of Captain Sundt as a punter. Taft is being given a try while Radke, a second team man shows possibilities for later in the season.

CHICAGO CHEESE MARKET

Chicago — Practically all dealers were of the opinion that the advance at the primary markets Monday was and will prove to be too sharp to encourage an active cheese market. The bulk of the activity consisted of filling late orders based on last week's prices. At the new levels there was practically no wholesale trade but in some quarters small trade was reported good. A number of good sized lots of held dairies were moved mostly around 23 cents.

GRAIN EXPORT REPORT

Washington — Decreased exports of grains and meat during August were reported Wednesday by the commerce department.

Exports of grain during August aggregated $67,000,000 compared with $115,000,000 in August a year ago. Exports for the eight months ended with August amounted to $341,000,000 against $575,000,000 during the corresponding months a year ago.

Meat exports for the month aggregated $11,000,000 against $17,000,000 in August, 1921 while for the eight months period the total was $89,000,000 compared with $11,000,000 during the first eight months of last year.

OLD SWINDLE OF BEAUTY IN PRISON WORKED IN SPAIN

Many Romance Seeking Foreigners Are Still Caught By Old Story

Granada, Spain—Americans have quit coming to Spain in search of the beautiful and wealthy princess imprisoned in a dark, damp tower by a greedy uncle who is anxious to annex her fortune.

The historic old Spanish swindle apparently has gone out of fashion in the United States, but it is still in vogue in other parts of the world. Germany has recently supplied quite a crop of kind-hearted gentlemen who advanced money for the release of the dark-eyed Spanish beauty who was suffering in a rat infested cell and slowly dying on a diet of bread and water while the bats hovered above her head and added to the terrors of her solitary confinement.

MANY BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Granada has always been a popular center for the men who have contributed to the relief of imprisoned beauties. Washington Irving and scores of lesser writers have credited Granada with having more beautiful women than any other city in the world. The legend of the Rose of the Alhambra and the stories of the three beautiful princesses, Zayda, Zorayda and Zorahayda, hover about the Alhambra and make it the natural refuge for disappointed investors in distressed beauty.

Vaudeville stars always have found the names of Moorish princesses profitable on playbills. They carry with them the atmosphere of the harem, of the veiled face and the oriental dance. They suggest the Alhambra and millions of gold, and the priceless Moorish jewels which Bonaldi and his court are reported in legend to have secreted in their beautiful palace before it was surrendered to Ferdinand and Isabella. Bonaldi and his queen are supposed to be hiding in a cavern in the neighboring mountains waiting for the magic call from Mohammed which will restore them to their old glory in the Alhambra. Every tower, every turret every minaret and every dungeon in the old Alhambra has its legend.

SEEK PRINCESSES

So it is not strange that searchers for princesses should come to Granada after having sought vainly for mythical castles in mythical mountains. Most of the modern Spanish princesses are being held captive in castles by the sea. Castles by the sea are so much damper and then it is much more romantic for rescue parties to approach the rocky castle in ships and wave to the imprisoned princess, who will promptly tear her clothing to bits and make a rope with which she will lower herself from the gloomy tower.

Sweaters

The Indispensable Item of a Smart Fall Wardrobe

THE SMARTLY DRESSED WOMAN includes several sweaters in her Fall wardrobe. At least one of these is sure to be a slip-on, perhaps in an unusual weave or shade. The other one will probably be a clever Tuxedo style that can be worn with all sorts of costumes. Not only for Autumn warmth, but for real use—a sweater can hardly be neglected.

Slip-on Sweaters at $3.

New slip-on sweaters display unusual value at this price. One style is woven in a fancy square knit and comes in buff. The sleeves are long. There is a round neck and belt. Another style in a slightly different weave has pockets. It is shown in black.

They are $3. each.

Silk and Wool Slip-ons — $6.75

This combination makes an attractive weave. These sweaters are in black with a smart border of white stripes at the bottom. There are white stripes on the cuff, and the neck band is made in a rolled effect.

They are $6.75.

Wool Sweaters at $7.75

A closely woven sweater is edged at the pockets and sleeves with a narrow band of silk. The bottom is finished in a fancy hand and there is a buckled belt. The styles come in good shades of buff and navy.

They are $7.75.

New Tuxedo Sweaters — $7.75

The attraction of this sweater lies in the novel weave. Against a background of vertical stripes, there is a series of horizontal ridges. The Tuxedo collar, cuffs and belt are in a close plain weave. Finished with two pockets. Shown in alpaca brown and buff.

They are $7.75.
